

Say Columbus Man Perished In Home Fire

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies are trying to determine today why 21-year-old Fred S. Johnson Jr., Columbus, was inside a house trailer on the Circleville-Commercial Point Road late Friday night when the trailer caught fire and killed him.

Johnson was identified late Tuesday afternoon as the victim of the fire, which also destroyed the mobile home owned by Robert Timmons.

Dental records were used by personnel at the Hamilton County Morgue to identify Johnson, according to Detective Don Thompson.

Johnson was suspected as being the victim of the blaze, Detective Thompson said, because his car was found in the driveway of the home when the fire broke out.

Linda Vance Named CNS Executive

Linda S. Vance has been named to fill the position of vice president and executive editor of Commodity News Services, Inc. A graduate of Westfall High School, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Chaney Vance, 10555 London Road.

She will assume the role in about two months when she moves to the Kansas City area from Washington D.C., where she is presently CNS Bureau Chief and National News Editor. The appointment was made by CNS President L. Michael Ridder, who will continue to act as executive editor until Vance has moved.

As executive editor, she will be responsible for the content of Grain Instant News; Livestock, Feed and Meat News; Commodity News Service; Active Commodity Trading News; Lumber Instant News; Cotton Trade News; Farm Radio News; and Poultry and Egg News. Content development of new or expanded commodity news areas will also be under her direction.

Vance, who has a degree in agriculture journalism from Ohio State University, joined CNS, Inc., five and a half years ago as a reporter at the Chicago Board of Trade. She moved to Washington in 1971 and was named bureau chief in 1973 and national news editor in 1975.

She is currently serving her second year as chairwoman of the board of the National Press Club. She has served on the NPC Board since 1973. She is a member of Women in Communications and Newspaper Farm Editors of America.

Vote Fraud Ruling Scheduled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A federal judge was expected to rule today on a request for an injunction to keep Secretary of State Ted W. Brown from certifying Ohio's 25 Democratic presidential electors.

Judge Joseph P. Kinneary of U.S. District Court, central Ohio division, took the request under advisement late Tuesday after hearing arguments that President-elect Jimmy Carter carried the state as a result of fraud.

The injunction request is part of a broader lawsuit that asks the court to order a new presidential election in Ohio.

Carter carried the state by 11,116 votes, among more than four million cast, on the basis of a recently completed recount Brown planned to declare official today.

However, the secretary of state indicated he would wait to hear from the federal court before certifying the electors who are slated to cast Ohio's official ballots next Monday. "We owe that much to the court," he said.

Kinneary heard day-long arguments Tuesday from Richard G. Reichel, Massillon attorney representing plaintiff electors of the Republican, American and U.S. Labor parties, and from lawyers representing Brown and the 25 Democratic electors—David Young and Robert McAlister, both of Columbus.

Reichel contended generally that "scientifically acceptable" samplings of voters in four cities demonstrated there were more than enough illegally cast ballots to offset the Carter victory.

Young and McAlister contended that the sampling should not be considered valid. They sought to discredit a Michigan researcher who set up the polling procedures after having him admit he never before participated in a vote fraud investigation.

McAlister also contended the federal court lacked jurisdiction because plaintiffs never exhausted their available remedies in state courts, and that "at best" their polls might support indications of 1,184 fraudulent votes—instead of the 11,847 Reichel claimed.

Reichel presented eight witnesses at the hearing, most of them workers of the U.S. Labor Party who based their fraud contentions in part on random samplings of 54 wards in Cleveland, Toledo, Cincinnati and Columbus.

The Massillon attorney also presented Dr. John Chamberlain, a political science professor from the University of Michigan who attested to the veracity of the random polling procedures.

The figures showed that statewide the investigations uncovered 101 actual cases of illegal voting and 1,083 cases in which voters were registered from addresses which turned out to be abandoned buildings or vacant lots. Reichel could not say how many of those registered from such places actually voted.

Chamberlain endorsed procedures that led to the conclusion that within the specific wards where sampling was done, there were 11,847 fraudulent votes cast, more than Carter's final 11,116-vote margin and enough to swing the state to President Ford. Reichel said the 11,847 figure "was the most conservative estimate," and that the total could be upwards of 20,000.

Young, special counsel for the attorney general who represented the secretary of state, and McAlister, representing the Democratic electors, pounced on the sampling procedures—as well as so-called "on site" visits to nonexistent voting residences by the plaintiffs—as flimsy evidence.

Young said he was "utterly amazed" at the figures and asserted they "explode a myth created by the plaintiffs' public pronouncements that they could prove tens of thousands of Ohioans voted illegally."

In his closing argument, Reichel claimed to have presented "ample evidence" of fraud with the use of "universally recognized and uncomplicated methodology."

He suggested that the alleged fraud was even greater than that supported by his evidence, but that the evidence was "more than enough to offset the margin of victory of the winning candidates."

Soviets Want Talks With Carter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet leaders are signaling publicly and privately their readiness to talk business with President-elect Carter on three key issues, beginning with the stalled negotiations on limiting strategic arms.

U.S. officials reported Tuesday that they have heard from Moscow through informal and indirect channels that Leonid I. Brezhnev would like 1977 to be a year that yields:

—A second phase agreement on limiting strategic arms, referred to in the diplomatic jargon as SALT II.

—A complete nuclear test ban treaty that would outlaw underground nuclear weapons explosions but would permit certain blasts for strictly peaceful purposes.

—An arrangement for the removal of trade and credit barriers between the two superpowers.

U.S. authorities have advised friendly governments of the soundings made by Brezhnev and some of his subordinates, according to Western diplomats. These soundings have been passed on by the Ford administration to the President-elect and members of his transition team, including Secretary of State-designate Cyrus R. Vance.

With the possible exception of trading and credit arrangements, U.S. officials have told their allied colleagues a SALT II pact and a comprehensive nuclear test ban treaty should be attainable by the fall of 1977, barring unforeseen developments.

The Soviet leadership has used public as well as private channels to get messages through to Carter. Influential Americans with links to Carter had been asked to visit Moscow before and after the Nov. 2 election, not only to satisfy the Kremlin's need to know more about Carter but also to convey Soviet thinking to him.

Among these Americans were W. Averell Harriman, a group of 150 American businessmen and a team representing the U.S. branch of the United Nations Association.

Sources said all were told of Moscow's readiness to conclude a SALT II pact and to develop trade.

Harriman, sources said, heard from Brezhnev himself of Moscow's belief that a total nuclear test ban treaty now is possible with some limited onsite inspection included.

Brezhnev coupled these assurances with a well-advertised pledge that the Soviet Union will do nothing that could be construed as a challenge, or a test, of the new Carter administration. This pledge was given first to Harriman, then was repeated to Treasury Secretary William E. Simon. On each occasion it was passed on to Carter.

Groveport-Madison Schools Still Shut After Levy Rejection

GROVEPORT, Ohio (AP) — Phillip Williams continued to supervise a dozen closed schoolhouses today, sobered by defeat—for the second time in 35 days—of a tax levy that would have reopened the empty buildings.

"The problem is we haven't solved anything," he said. "We can finish this (academic) year but I doubt we'll have the money to reopen next September."

Voters Tuesday defeated a 13.8-mill tax levy that would have allowed schools to reopen today. Without it schools cannot open until Jan. 3 when 1977 funds become available.

The Groveport-Madison School District is one of seven closed in Ohio for lack of funds, putting 70,000 students out of classes.

School districts in Oregon and Connecticut are in similar trouble. Three districts in Oregon closed when tax levies failed but two reopened with alternate financing. They may close again if new tax offerings fail on Jan. 11.

The elementary and high school in Putnam, Conn., reopened Tuesday after a judge ordered the town to provide money.

The tax issue here divided neighborhoods and even families after they were jarred by reality Nov. 2 when a levy failed and schools closed. The district is largely made up of working-class families and farmers.

Carol Cole, wife of a truck driver, has two sons who are among the 6,900 students affected. She had joined a "We Still Care" group that worked for passage of the tax.

"They don't care but I do," she said of her 8th and 9th grade sons. "These people just let their school district go down the drain."

"I'm elated," countered Barbara Groves, who worked against the tax proposition even though her husband is on the school board. "Now maybe our dreams can come true."

She feels school spending was not adequately explained to the community. Her dream is for a task force to delve into finances and see if more taxes are really needed. "If the task force finds a 13.8-mill levy is needed I will work to pass it," she said.

The latest proposal lost by 765 votes—2,999 for to 3,765 against. That compares with a 109-vote defeat for an 11.5-mill levy Nov. 2. The count then was 3,797 against and 3,688 in favor.

Mary Havens, mother of eight and seven of them school age, spearheaded the "We Still Care" group.

"It was a special election today," she said in explaining the lower turnout.

"There's nothing else to be done," she said. "It's a shame."

About 300 persons had gathered at a vocational school to watch returns and a cry of "Ohs" went up as Mrs. Havens posted a precinct vote—144 for, 306 against.

"That does it," Williams said. "We can't win."

Richards Elected Prexy Of OSU Group

William J. Richards of Circleville, Route 2, was elected president of the Agriculture, Home Economics and Natural Resources Alumni Association of The Ohio State University at the association's board meeting December 3. He succeeds Judith Bailey of Columbus.

Connie S. Cahill, home economist with the Ohio Poultry Association, Columbus, was elected vice-president. She is a 1970 graduate of the School of Home Economics and has been serving as the association's secretary.

Mrs. Cahill's father, L. Lyle Spiess, recently retired after many years as Cooperative Extension Service agent in Fulton County, Ohio.

Jo Ellen Helmlinger, consumer consultant for Big Bear Stores, Columbus, was elected secretary. She is a 1973 graduate of the School of Home Economics. Warren Weiler, a retired member of the classes of 1923 and 1941, was re-elected treasurer of the association. He lives in Worthington.

Richards, a 1953 graduate of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology, farms 4,500 acres in Pickaway County. He is a member of the National Farm Foundation Board and is president of Premium Agricultural Commodities Inc. He has been active on the association board for several years.

The Alumni Association, with some 2,500 members, acts as a support and advisory group to the College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Through its activities, members seek to strengthen ties between alumni and students, faculty and administration of the college. They also attempt to help improve the quality of education at the college and to encourage interested students to pursue their education in agriculture, home economics or natural resources at OSU.

City Faces Operating Deficit

David Goldschmidt, chairman of Circleville Council's finance committee, told the city fathers Tuesday that it appeared the general fund will be $50,000 in the red at the year's end.

The November financial report showed a balance of $32,494.75 in the general fund but with no anticipated revenue for the remainder of the year that balance will soon be wiped out, Goldschmidt said.

He emphasized the deficit will put quite a strain on next year's budget even though a one half of one per cent increase in the city income tax goes into effect Jan. 1.

Sarah Churchill Named In Lawsuit

CHICAGO (AP) — Actress Sarah Churchill, daughter of the late Sir Winston Churchill, has been accused by a Chicago publishing firm of breach of contract by keeping a $15,000 advance for an autobiography that remains unwritten.

The suit, filed Tuesday in U.S. District Court on behalf of Henry Regnery Co., said Miss Churchill was to have written the book with author Charles Hamblett, who died two weeks after the contract was signed in March 1975.

Harvey Plotnick, president of Regnery, said Hamblett's death voided the contract and that a chapter Miss Churchill wrote herself and later submitted to the publishing house was "atrocious."

Plotnick added that Miss Churchill refused to return the advance money, saying she had already spent it.

the Police and Firemen Pension Levy, $629.79 in the hole on Nov. 30, and the Street Construction Maintenance and Repair Fund, $2,699.14 in the hole.

Council transferred $2,000 within the funds of the service department Tuesday to help alleviate the deficit in the street fund. However, any deficit within the pension fund must be covered by the general fund.

Mayor Frank Barnhill reported the budget for 1977 does not provide for any additional services to residents of the city. He said it is within the authority of the administration to order cutbacks within the various departments in order to balance the budget.

Council also discussed repealing the $5 piggyback license tag fee. When council passed the city income tax hike, members indicated the piggyback tax would be repealed.

However, Goldschmidt said last night that although he favored repealing it, he would change his stand if it appeared the county commissioners would levy it. According to the finance committee chairman, if the county enacted the tax, city residents would still be paying it but the city would not get the financial benefits.

The mayor stated he was not in favor of the repeal of the piggyback license fee because this money goes for street maintenance. "We would have to use general fund money to replace that revenue if we repeal the tax," he explained.

Councilman Dixie Watters reported he had been checking into the cost of remodeling Firehouse No. 2. "For the amount of money we have spent there, we have been taken," Watters said.

Watters said over $8,000 has been spent already and much remained to be done. "When we acquired the building we were told it would cost only about $7,000 to make it serviceable for the fire department and that included enlarging the parking bays which we didn't have to do," he said. He was also critical of the quality of the work that has been done, saying "any 15-year-old kid could have done it better." "If we can't do a better job of spending the city's money we should resign," he concluded.

The mayor stated he was not in favor of the repeal of the piggyback license fee because this money goes for street maintenance. "We would have to use general fund money to replace that revenue if we repeal the tax," he explained.

Councilman Dixie Watters reported he had been checking into the cost of remodeling Firehouse No. 2. "For the amount of money we have spent there, we have been taken," Watters said.

Watters said over $8,000 has been spent already and much remained to be done. "When we acquired the building we were told it would cost only about $7,000 to make it servicable for the fire department and that included enlarging the parking bays which we didn't have to do," he said. He was also critical of the quality of the work that has been done, saying "any 15-year-old kid could have done it better." "If we can't do a better job of spending the city's money we should resign," he concluded.

ted a short but heated response from Safety Director Ed Ebert who said it appeared that Watters was asking for his resignation. "When my resignation comes, it will not come at your request," Ebert said. "I was hired by the mayor, not city council."

As safety director, Ebert has been responsible for the work done at the new firehouse.

Robert Kramer, sanitarian with the county health department gave his report to the city. In addition, the city received the report of the November meeting of the board of health.

In addition to the transfer of funds within the service department, city council approved for record purposes only the proposed Sylvan Village Subdivision to the city. The subdivision is on the Replegle land along Nicholas Drive.

A resolution amending provisions of the city income tax resolution passed in 1970 updating and clarifying certain sections was approved.

Council also touched briefly on the pigeon population in the city. Mayor

Barnhill noted the city does have an ongoing USDA regulated control program. Kramer noted that when the board of health is contacted concerning an individual problem, the person or persons seeking the solution are referred to a private exterminating company.

A communication from the law firm of Margulis, Hall, Gussler and Hosterman was received and placed on file. It referred to a law suit stemming from an automobile accident in which the city was named among the defendants. City solicitor John Adkins reported he has asked the city be dropped from the suit.

Councilman Tom Wells, chairman of the safety committee, requested a meeting of his panel 7:30 p.m. Dec. 15 at city hall.

Present at Tuesday's meeting were the mayor, Council president Joe Bell, Goldschmidt, Wells, Watters, David Crawford, John Jenkins, Harold Hoffman and Steve Jones, Clerk Robert Shadley, Ebert, Service Director Atwood Jones, Kramer and Adkins.

Community Christmas Tree Contributions Coming In

Community Christmas Tree donations are starting to come into the VFW Post and Chairman Leslie Merrill wants to remind those that have not contributed that now is the time.

The idea behind this project is to insure that each underprivileged child in the county receives a basket of fruits, nuts and candy on Christmas Eve.

Merrill and the local VFW Post would like to thank those that have promptly contributed to the Christmas Tree. Among those are: American Legion Hall Adkins Post 134; Pittsburgh Plate Glass; Jim Houseman Ford, 596 N. Court St., and The Sturm and Dillard Company.

Contributions from banks and individuals have also been received for the project. Included are: The Ashville Bank, The Third National Bank, Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Grigg, 905 N.

Atwater Ave., and Prosecuting Attorney Richard Gerhardt, 113 S. Court St.

Merrill said that because of these donations and others that he hopes will follow, he is sure underprivileged children will also be grateful to contributors on Christmas Eve.

He reminds other community members, businesses and industries that donations can be made payable and mailed to Community Christmas Tree, 217 N. Court St., Circleville. If there are any questions, contact Gene Hill, 474-9087 or Merrill at 474-7794.

UPS Strike Nearly Over

WASHINGTON (AP) — The only hurdle left to ending the 83-day-old United Parcel Service strike appears to be a vote Thursday by 17,000 rank-and-file workers.

Union leaders say striking workers could return to work Friday if they agree to accept a tentative contract with the parcel service.

Leaders of the 74 striking Teamsters locals unanimously recommended on Tuesday the acceptance of a tentative contract with the United Parcel Service.

The union's full, 20-member bargaining committee gave its approval to the pact on Monday.

The strike has virtually shut down UPS operations in 15 Eastern states from Maine to South Carolina and created huge backlogs in the U.S. Postal Service's package deliveries. Only in New York City, which has a separate contract, have UPS deliveries continued.

Details of the pact, reached Friday following some 80 bargaining sessions, were not made public pending ratification.

But a Teamsters leader said the contract resolved disputes over part-time workers and pension plans. The strike began Sept. 15.

OPEC Meet Still Slated

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) will hold its ministerial conference to discuss an oil price increase as scheduled on Dec. 15 in Doha, Qatar's minister of petroleum said today.

Sheik Abdulaziz Bin Khalifa al-Thani said "agreement has been reached finally to hold the meeting on time" in the capital of Qatar, the government radio there reported.

Several members of the oil cartel had requested postponement of the meeting because it conflicted with a round in the "North-South" talks in Paris between the industrialized and underdeveloped countries. But the members of that conference are so far from any agreement that they are expected to announce a postponement any day.

The oil nations have been reported planning to demand increases ranging from 8 to 25 per cent in the base price of crude oil, now $11.51 per barrel. It is widely believed the increase will be between 10 and 15 per cent.

Tri-Gray-Y Ceremony Held

TRI-GRAY-Y CEREMONY — The second annual Tri-Gray-Y girls induction ceremony was held Tuesday at St. Philip's parish house. Refreshments were served following the event.

The Pickaway County Family YMCA held the second annual induction ceremony for the Tri-Gray-Y girls program Tuesday evening at St. Philip's Church.

Attending were members and officers of Tri-Gray-Y clubs from Atwater, Corwin, High St., Jackson, Mound St., Nicholas, Pickaway, S.

Court and Washington Schools. Members of the induction team were, Beth Allison, Gaye Radcliff, Micki Styers, Shanna Fausnaugh, Kim Pritchard, Gloria Reed, Wendy Hedges, Betsy Cyrus, Jill Mullet, Rhonda Smith and Cheryl Barton of Mound St. School.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Jean Ankrom, executive secretary, of the Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Ankrom challenged the girls to do their best in all things to better their lives, homes, work and communities.

Mrs. Jill Weldon, advisor for all of the Tri-Gray-Y, reminded the girls of the purpose for the clubs and to uphold the platform which consists of: Working together, being friendly, respect and serve others, show good sportsmanship, be helpful at home, do the best possible at school, take an active part in church activities and be reverent to God.

Officers were then installed officially by Mrs. Joan Eller, Program and Physical director of the YMCA.

Approximately 98 persons were in attendance, with Jackson and Mound Street girls hosting the event. Punch and cookies were served after the ceremony in the parish hall.

EMS Report Given To City Council

The Circleville Emergency Medical Service made 72 emergency runs during November according to the report presented to city council Tuesday by Donald Greenlee, president.

Of the total, 48 runs were made in the city, 12 in Circleville Twp., one in Jackson Twp., four each in Washington and Pickaway Twp. and three in Wayne Twp.

The squad answered 11 calls to automobile accidents, 16 to other injury accidents, 27 for illnesses, 15 to cardiac victims and three to fires.

The squad drove 501 miles. A total of 1,324 volunteer hours were worked by 66 persons during the month. Volunteers also were on duty on the plectron shift for 869 hours.

Atwater Ave., and Prosecuting Attorney Richard Gerhardt, 113 S. Court St.

Merrill said that because of these donations and others that he hopes will follow, he is sure underprivileged children will also be grateful to contributors on Christmas Eve.

He reminds other community members, businesses and industries that donations can be made payable and mailed to Community Christmas Tree, 217 N. Court St., Circleville. If there are any questions, contact Gene Hill, 474-9087 or Merrill at 474-7794.

UPS Strike Nearly Over

WASHINGTON (AP) — The only hurdle left to ending the 83-day-old United Parcel Service strike appears to be a vote Thursday by 17,000 rank-and-file workers.

OPEC Meet Still Slated

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — The Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) will hold its ministerial conference to discuss an oil price increase as scheduled on Dec. 15 in Doha, Qatar's minister of petroleum said today.

Sheik Abdulaziz Bin Khalifa al-Thani said "agreement has been reached finally to hold the meeting on time" in the capital of Qatar, the government radio there reported.

Several members of the oil cartel had requested postponement of the meeting because it conflicted with a round in the "North-South" talks in Paris between the industrialized and underdeveloped countries. But the members of that conference are so far from any agreement that they are expected to announce a postponement any day.

The oil nations have been reported planning to demand increases ranging from 8 to 25 per cent in the base price of crude oil, now $11.51 per barrel. It is widely believed the increase will be between 10 and 15 per cent.

Tri-Gray-Y Ceremony Held

TRI-GRAY-Y CEREMONY — The second annual Tri-Gray-Y girls induction ceremony was held Tuesday at St. Philip's parish house. Refreshments were served following the event.

The Pickaway County Family YMCA held the second annual induction ceremony for the Tri-Gray-Y girls program Tuesday evening at St. Philip's Church.

Attending were members and officers of Tri-Gray-Y clubs from Atwater, Corwin, High St., Jackson, Mound St., Nicholas, Pickaway, S.

Court and Washington Schools. Members of the induction team were, Beth Allison, Gaye Radcliff, Micki Styers, Shanna Fausnaugh, Kim Pritchard, Gloria Reed, Wendy Hedges, Betsy Cyrus, Jill Mullet, Rhonda Smith and Cheryl Barton of Mound St. School.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Jean Ankrom, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Ankrom challenged the girls to do their best in all things to better their lives, homes, work and communities.

Mrs. Jill Weldon, advisor for all of the Tri-Gray-Y, reminded the girls of the purpose for the clubs and to uphold the platform which consists of: Working together, being friendly, respect and serve others, show good sportsmanship, be helpful at home, do the best possible at school, take an active part in church activities and be reverent to God.

Officers were then installed officially by Mrs. Joan Eller, Program and Physical director of the YMCA.

Approximately 98 persons were in attendance, with Jackson and Mound Street girls hosting the event. Punch and cookies were served after the ceremony in the parish hall.

EMS Report Given To City Council

The Circleville Emergency Medical Service made 72 emergency runs during November according to the report presented to city council Tuesday by Donald Greenlee, president.

Of the total, 48 runs were made in the city, 12 in Circleville Twp., one in Jackson Twp., four each in Washington and Pickaway Twp. and three in Wayne Twp.

The squad answered 11 calls to automobile accidents, 16 to other injury accidents, 27 for illnesses, 15 to cardiac victims and three to fires.

The squad drove 501 miles. A total of 1,324 volunteer hours were worked by 66 persons during the month. Volunteers also were on duty on the plectron shift for 869 hours.

Booster Club To Meet

The Circleville Athletic Booster Club will meet 8 p.m. tonight in the high school cafeteria.

Head Basketball coach Jim Bailey will show game films and discuss the upcoming game at Wilmington.

Head wrestling coach Brent Bell will review the reserve meet and preview the meet with London Saturday.

Williamsport News

By EILEEN EASTERDAY, Phone 986-3481

The Community Square committee reports that at their last meeting held a week ago Tuesday evening they were pleased to have approximately $1,000 contributed thus far toward the purchase of the former Williamsport School grounds. A Share of the Square can be had by donating $10 per share. This is actually an investment in the future of our town. Shares can be obtained from any committee member — Marcia Horch, Glenn Whitten, Charley Galloway, Jerry Wilt or Shirley Bowser. As we have suggested in previous columns, why not give a Share of the Square as a Christmas gift? Business places are being contacted personally by committee members in the next few weeks.

The sixth, seventh and eighth grade students at Westfall Middle School presented a delightful musical Christmas program on Monday evening. Under the direction of Pat Beathard, vocal music instructor, and Rita Ingman, band director, the audience was taken on a "round the world" glimpse of Christmas customs in other countries. The boys and girls responded well to the direction and thrilled the "packed house" with their performances. One of the truly exciting highlights of the evening was hearing the sixth and seventh grade band render their selections. One could hardly believe how really good they were. After all, they have only been taking instruction since early October. I suspect each parent of the 131 band members was as filled with pride as this mother was to hear what they had accomplished. How pleased everyone in the Westfall district can be that we have these to excellent music instructors on an outstanding Middle School faculty. Heading up the fine faculty is a real "right-on" principal and behind every good principal is a good secretary. And don't anyone yah, yah, polishing the apple routine — my apple doesn't need to be polished.

We each step to the measure of our own drummer and for Aunt Gladys Arledge and her mate Jack it was a quiet observance of their golden wedding anniversary. Their son Harry of Delaware joined them for dinner and Glenna Steinhauer entertained with a small brunch. Joined together in holy matrimony 50 years ago on Nov. 24, 1926, the couple wishes to acknowledge with thanks and appreciation all the many nice remembrances they received in honor of the occasion.

Now, we have another special moment to remember with good wishes. Aunt Gladys Arledge will celebrate a birthday Dec. 11. Practically everyone in town refers to her as Aunt Gladys for one reason or another but whatever the reason the basic cause is the deep affection held in the hearts of all for her. She has been active in community and church work all her life and has been a Sunday school teacher for more years than we dare tell. We are not permitted to let the typewriter keys reveal what birthday she will be having Saturday but we will tell you she was nearly twenty when she and John "Jack" exchanged vows. And how is your arithmetic? Keep your cool, Aunt Gladys!

Our good buddy Earl Lanman is a surgical patient in Room 103 at Fayette Memorial Hospital, Washington C. H. and I want to urge every reader to get a card in the mail to him. I would like to hear his room was deluged with cards. Earl is a special person in my book because during the years I was a scout leader he was one of the troop committee members — at that time the only male troop committee member registered in the Central Ohio region. What's more he was always willing to serve when called upon as did my other committee members and anyone who has been a leader knows this is an important function for the troop.

Two other local persons we hold in high esteem are also hospitalized and we know they, too, would be encouraged to better health by hearing from those who care. Send cards to Jack Dunlap, University Hospital, Columbus, and to Thomas "Tommy" Carter, Mt. Carmel Hospital, West, Columbus.

The Williamsport Jaycettes were quite pleased with the results of their first Secret Santa Shop held last weekend. From remarks overheard of some of the youngsters who shopped there it was pleasing to the customers, too.

Enjoying Sunday dinner at the Buccaneer in Lancaster were Emma Puffinberger, Gene and Glenna Steinhauer all three from our village, John and Minnie Steinhauer of Circleville. It was a pre-Christmas get together with gifts being exchanged, too. After dinner they returned to the Circleville Steinhauers home for relaxation and conversation.

It was just about this time of the year several years ago that I began writing as the Williamsport correspondent and what fun it has been. I guess the most surprising thing of all (and admittedly quite nice to hear) is that folks have enjoyed reading it. Probably the most amusing is the fact that everyone thinks I blab everything I know — if they only knew what I don't tell! Of course, there are those who now and then send anonymous messages for my file 13. For those unfamiliar with a file 13 that is when you give something a chuckle and then pitch it.

Scuttlebutt says that Bill Rhinesmith has taken over management and ownership of the local pub John's Place. We figure he can do for it what few others have been able to do.

If the Lord willing there will be a column next week even though yours truly will be hopefully basking in the sunny climes of Florida. We have an idea for one if time permits putting the package together. 'Tis the season of fellowship and love and we love you all. Take care.

Jay Rockefeller To Resign Post

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Gov.-elect John D. Rockefeller IV has told the Rockefeller Foundation he will keep a campaign promise and resign from the board of directors prior to taking office Jan. 17, 1977.

Rockefeller, who has been a member of the foundation since July 1968, gave the notice Monday while attending a foundation meeting in New York.

Prior to leaving the board post, Rockefeller will serve on a committee to name a replacement for Clarksburg native Cyrus Vance, who is currently chairman of the foundation.

Vance is resigning that post to become secretary of state.

The West Virginia governor-elect is the only member of the Rockefeller family serving on the board of directors.

Policeman Checks Shoplifting

Ptl. Bill Pontious of the Circleville Police Department investigated a report of shoplifting Tuesday night at 7:10 p.m.

According to the report, Pontious arrived on the scene and questioned Edward Davis, of 424 E. Mill St., and found a package of Winston cigarettes in his pocket. Pontious then charged Davis with shoplifting. Value of the cigarettes was 55 cents.

'Coke' Model Dislikes It

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP) — Nellie Moore didn't like Coca Cola in 1921 and still doesn't, though she probably has helped sell as much of it as anyone.

Now Mrs. Nellie Banfield, at 72 a twice-widowed grandmother, she then was a 16-year-old beauty with auburn highlights in her brown hair when she modeled for Coca Cola advertisements.

She agreed to pose only if she didn't have to hold a bottle or a glass of the drink—because she disliked it.

The artist, the late Alfred Conyers, painted her holding only the streamers of her bonnet. During the next two years she modeled in his Cleveland studio at $1 an hour, and her likeness appeared on five calendars and three types of trays.

By the time she was 18, she had married and gave little thought to her former work. With today's interest in nostalgia, however, she's been back in the public eye—including a television interview.

She has only one tray as a memento of that era. She gave two others to her grown children—who, as toddlers, long ago tore up her copies of the calendars.

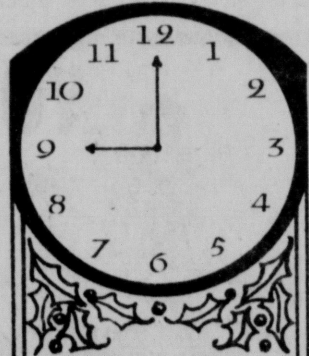

But that one tray, she says she has been told, is worth $350.

Eliminating The Strike

Few events in labor-management relations reflect failure in the process so much as a strike, especially a prolonged strike. In a major industry the effects of a strike spread far and rapidly, injuring innocent parties as well as the principals.

The lengthy strike which has closed down operations of the United Parcel Service in 15 eastern states and crippled service in many others is a current example. Not only has UPS lost a large amount of business at a critical time of the year which can never be recovered, but thousands of its employees enter the Christmas season with bleak prospects.

Beyond that effect, the public and the many businesses which had come to depend upon UPS for a large part of their package delivery needs have been seriously inconvenienced. The Postal Service, while valiantly trying to service the added load, is having its problems and the burden will grow daily until Christmas.

It is that way in virtually every major strike. That fact has brought labor and management negotiators in some industries to the realization that no one wins in a strike. Braniff International, the world's 15th largest airline, recently signed a no-strike contract with its pilots' association and became the largest member of its industry to go this route.

A no-strike contract will last only so long as both sides believe it is fair to their interests, but it does emphasize in dramatic terms the growing realization that a strike is a no-win situation for all.

Woodenshoes

By JIM BISHOP

Woodenshoes Eichorn died. He was 85, which is pretty good mileage for a flat tire. Eichorn was a cop. He had the acumen of a cigar store Indian. Years ago I wrote disparagingly about him and he sent a thank you note.

He wasn't smart enough to be put in a squad car. The captain of the old Fourth Precinct in Brooklyn placed him on house duty, which consisted of mopping floors, polishing brass cuspidors, emptying wastebaskets, and running to the corner beanery for eight coffees - three with, five without.

Woodenshoes was two years from safe retirement and a pension when he spoke out of turn. Six hoodlums hid in a B.M.T. subway line men's room at the Avenue U station at 4 a.m. The lady cashier, who was reading the morning News under a shaded light, saw them.

A work train came along to pick up the coins in the turnstiles. The young man with the key was studying at Deleahanty Institute to become a policeman. He got off, inserted a key, and opened the box.

The six kids were on him like frightened tigers. One had a gun. The cop-to-be said, "You guys crazy? There was an explosion and a flash of light. The lady cashier screamed. The kids grabbed the change bag and ran.

They had $5.95, slightly less than a buck a man. The first detective on the scene took a look and got sick to his stomach. The dead man was engaged to his sister. Brooklyn police headquarters, as always, put "every available man on the job."

The borough commander held a conference of brass in the Fourth Precinct. There were no clues except a size 7 1/4 brown Warner hat which was found next to the turnstile. It was the most common size of the most common color of the most common make of hat.

The chief spoke of shaking down informers and neighborhood gangs. Woodenshoes approached with sandwiches. "Wouldn't it be easier," he said, "to find out who fits that hat?" The brass looked up. They saw a big fat man with gray skin and a shoe-brush haircut.

Two inspectors laughed. The chief didn't. He was grim. "Here," he said, shoving the hat across the table. "From now on until this thing is closed, you're assigned to find out who belongs to this hat. You are now detached from the 4th and reassigned to Brooklyn homicide."

Woodenshoes beamed. He thought he had said something intelligent. The autumn winds had stripped the leaves from Prospect Park and the snows were crunchy in Flatbush as Woodenshoes walked eight hours a day looking for bare-headed young men.

He wandered everywhere from Coney Island to Joralemon Street. He played the subways, the elevators, the sidewalks, the buses, the courts, the office buildings. Often he slipped the hat on a head and the young man tried to punch him.

Eichorn learned to display his police badge quickly. Cops in the 4th watched him troop in with the hat and they laughed. There was an early spring and the Dodgers played their first four at home. Eichorn looked for young fellows at the gates.

He was growing old and tired. His wife said that if only he had kept his big mouth shut he would still have been a reliable gopher. One day he walked on the grass in Prospect Park where it says: "Don't Walk on the Grass." He saw a bare head on a park bench with his back to Woodenshoes.

He sneaked up behind it and dropped the hat on the head. The young man froze. "Okay. Okay. Don't shoot." The cop was so surprised that he forgot to put the cuffs on the prisoner.

Nobody at the 4th could believe it. Woodenshoes had actually found the one man out of a million wearing that hat who owned it. The homicide guys had no trouble breaking him down. They had trouble making him stop. That night, Brooklyn headquarters had all six hoodlums.

The trial in Kings County Court was as casual as a rubber stamp. Two confessed to the deeds of six. The jury sent four to the electric chair. The press called it the "Nickel Murder." The executioner was paid $600 for killing four guys, whereas they got $5.95 for murdering one.

It's all a matter of arithmetic. Woodenshoes the dummy retired. The police commissioner swore in 700 new cops in the police gymnasium. In their presence, he pinned a medal on Eichorn.

"In your life work," he intoned, "you are going to learn that it is persistence that pays off. I don't know of a nobler example than Officer Eichorn." ...

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Carter seems to be in a minority when he insists that an income tax cut isn't a certainty but instead only one of the options available to him.

The operators of the increasingly popular numerical, or econometric, models, the independent economists and those with the big banks, legislators, and apparently even Carter's own people, are making that assumption.

Support for a tax cut seems to come from elements of all economic types and strata, from businessmen and labor, although the AFL-CIO has officially withheld support until it can review precise proposals.

The big banks here, which by the nature of their work are forced to assume the future, anticipate a cut. Citibank's publication, "Economic Week," assumes a rebate of up to $15 billion. Banker's Trust foresees a rebate or a cut.

Reginald Jones, chairman of General Electric, has taken time away from a mission he pursues zealously, the need for more capital formation, to support a cut, especially for middle- and low-income people.

The media too are talking about a tax cut as if already it had been spelled out by Carter. Discussion, speculation and forecasts of the consequences are the meat of the articles, but Business Week has editorially endorsed a cut.

Considerable dispute about the merits of lower taxes remain, however. The AFL-CIO reminds people that its commitment is more to "tax justice." Whether that includes a tax cut remains to be seen.

Some economists are concerned about the consequences, arguing that the most recent reduction during the Ford administration was simply used to pay bills or build bank accounts rather than to buy goods.

It is argued also that a cut, even if concentrated in the middle and low tax brackets, won't help the worst off — retirees on Social Security for example — who pay little or no federal income taxes.

Talk persists, nevertheless, because Carter has committed himself to a goal of lower unemployment, more economic growth, lower interest rates, and tax reform.

Almost all commentators seem to believe that lower taxes are essential to achieve these goals, especially that which calls for a reduction of 1.5 percentage points in the jobless rate, now 8.1 per cent, by one year from now.

Few major economists feel that the jobless goal can be met without spurring the economy to much greater activity than is now anticipated, and the way to do that, they seem to feel, is by tax ease.

Many economists go further: They insist the entire economic program of the new Administration hinges on a cut — that it is the key ingredient, the catalyst, the yeast that will make possible a larger slice for everyone.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I read that blue cheeses contain a dangerous chemical. I've been eating these cheeses all my life and haven't noticed any aftereffects. Do you think I should stop now?

Mrs. B. O. L., Mo.

Dear Mrs. L.:

It is true that blue cheeses have been found to have a toxic substance. In fact, the name of the substance is "roquefortine."

The highest concentration of this neuro-toxin is in the portion of the cheese that is most moldy.

The report that you saw was one that was done on experimental animals. It is said that a human being weighing about 150 lbs. would have to eat more than a ton of blue cheese at a time before any toxic or neurological reaction might occur.

Since you're not planning to eat blue cheese in such quantities, I think, Mrs. L., that you can relax and enjoy your cheese.

As a reaction to one of my columns on cigarette smoking a reader wrote an amusing letter. He said:

"I have been reading about the relationship between cigarette smoking and cancer of the larynx. I have also been reading about the relationship between cigarette smoking and cancer of the lung. I've been reading, too, about the relationship between cigarette smoking and heart disease.

"Consequently, I have decided to give up reading!"

My answer to him is simple and direct. His comment will bring laughs at a party. He cannot, however, sidestep the stark reality of the dangers of cigarette smoking.

I know someone who simply cannot lose weight. Whenever she overeats she deliberately sticks her finger down her throat to regurgitate. Is this a dangerous habit?

Mrs. V. H., Calif.

Dear Mrs. H.:

What do you think of this habit? Does it make any sense to you? From where I sit, the habit is a dangerous one and should be discontinued.

I would certainly investigate the psychological reasons for this person's inability to lose weight and for the unorthodox method of dealing with the problem.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH...

Support for a tax cut seems to come from elements of all economic types and strata, from businessmen and labor, although the AFL-CIO has officially withheld support until it can review precise proposals.

The big banks here, which by the nature of their work are forced to assume the future, anticipate a cut. Citibank's publication, "Economic Week," assumes a rebate of up to $15 billion. Banker's Trust foresees a rebate or a cut.

Reginald Jones, chairman of General Electric, has taken time away from a mission he pursues zealously, the need for more capital formation, to support a cut, especially for middle- and low-income people.

The media too are talking about a tax cut as if already it had been spelled out by Carter. Discussion, speculation and forecasts of the consequences are the meat of the articles, but Business Week has editorially endorsed a cut.

Considerable dispute about the merits of lower taxes remain, however. The AFL-CIO reminds people that its commitment is more to "tax justice." Whether that includes a tax cut remains to be seen.

Some economists are concerned also about the consequences, arguing that the most recent reduction during the Ford administration was simply used to pay bills or build bank accounts rather than to buy goods.

It is argued also that a cut, even if concentrated in the middle and low tax brackets, won't help the worst off — retirees on Social Security for example — who pay little or no federal income taxes.

Talk persists, nevertheless, because Carter has committed himself to a goal of lower unemployment, more economic growth, lower interest rates, and tax reform.

Almost all commentators seem to believe that lower taxes are essential to achieve these goals, especially that which calls for a reduction of 1.5 percentage points in the jobless rate, now 8.1 per cent, by one year from now.

Few major economists feel that the jobless goal can be met without spurring the economy to much greater activity than is now anticipated, and the way to do that, they seem to feel, is by tax ease.

Many economists go further: They insist the entire economic program of the new Administration hinges on a cut — that it is the key ingredient, the catalyst, the yeast that will make possible a larger slice for everyone.

Firewood Sale Slated By State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Firewood for those willing to cut it themselves will be on sale at five state forests this week, the Ohio Department of Natural Resources said.

Firewood will be available at Maumee State Forest and Mohican State Forest Thursday through Saturday.

Wood also may be purchased Monday through Friday except holidays from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. until Dec. 30 at Zaleski State Forest, Scioto Trail State Forest and Shawnee State Forest.

Rabbi Dies; Ex-Ohioan

CINCINNATI (AP) — Services for Rabbi Dr. Julian Morgenstern, president emeritus of the Hebrew Union College, will be held Thursday in the seminary chapel. He died Saturday in Macon, Ga., at the age of 95.

Dr. Morgenstern, ordained in 1902 at HUC, center for Reformed Judaism in the United States, headed the seminary from 1921 to 1947.

His years at HUC were marked by expansion of its academic programs and many European scholars who found a home on the campus after fleeing the Nazis.

He is survived by a daughter, two grandsons and four great grandchildren.

Born in St. Francisville, Ill., he served three years as a rabbi in Lafayette, Ind., before returning to academic life where he became a distinguished Bible scholar and author.

His works include "Amos Studies," "Ark, the Ephod, and the Tent of Meeting," "The Book of the Covenant" and "Rites, of Birth, Marriage, Death, and Kindred Ceremonies Among the Semites."

Strip Mining License Revoked

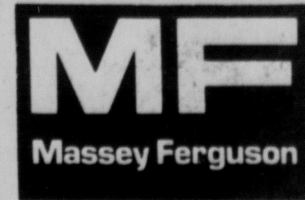

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Natural Resources has revoked the coal strip mining license permit of a Lawrence County contracting firm after the agency found the company in violation of the Ohio strip mine law.

Triple V Contracting Inc., of Pedro, was ordered to discontinue its mining operation after it was determined the firm had mined outside the limits of its license, failed to prevent landslides in the mining area, provided inadequate storage for topsoil saved for reclamation work and failed to control water runoff.

Charles Call, chief of the division of reclamation, said a new permit may be issued if the company corrects the violations.

News Of Interest To Women

6 The Circleville Herald, Wednesday December 8, 1976

Miss Kathy Sue Hardy, Dennis M. Brooks Are Wed

MR. AND MRS. DENNIS MARLON BROOKS

Good Shepherd United Methodist Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Kathy Sue Hardy and Mr. Dennis Marlon Brooks at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 5.

The Rev. Eugene Flowers officiated the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Hardy, 1980 Arapaho Drive, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester J. Brooks, Route 5.

A program of nuptial selections played by Mrs. Lucille Kirkwood, organist, preceded the service.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding she selected a formal length gown of white chantilly lace in an empire silhouette with high ruffled neckline and full sleeves with deep ruffle edged cuffs. The full skirt with a deep flounce flowed softly to a wateau train. The bride's lace edged veil of illusion, held by a matching lace cap, fell to a cathedral length train. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and rosebuds backed with leatherleaf. Matron of honor was Ms. Taska Reeser and bridesmaids were Miss Twana Brooks and Miss Jodi Hardy. The honor attendant wore a formal length jade green polyester knit gown with an empire bodice, lace edged yoke, high neckline and bishop sleeves with deep lace edged cuffs. The bridesmaids were attired identically to the honor attendant in spice. Ms. Reeser carried a single long stemmed white carnation dipped in orange with greenery and a bow matching her gown. Miss Brooks and Miss Hardy carried carnations dipped in green.

The Misses Jennifer Schoonover and Amy Swank were candle bearers at the opening and closing of the ceremony. Flower girls were Miss Shawna Schwalbaugh and Miss Shawna Dumm, cousins of the bride. They all wore full length gowns of brown knit.

Ring bearer was Master John M. Reeser.

Mr. Randy Brooks served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Mr. Darryl Hardy, Mr. Loren Reed and Mr. Rick Edler, and the groomsmen were Mr. Mike Sabine, Mr. Steve Sabine and Mr. Dale Reynolds.

The bride's mother wore a formal length aqua knit gown in a princess silhouette with long sleeves and V-neckline trimmed in venise lace and pearls.

The bridegroom's mother chose a formal length green knit gown with a matching lace jacket. Corsages for both mothers were of white rosebuds. Hostesses for the reception in the Service Center were Mrs. Dean Durbin, Mrs. Mike Sabine, Miss Penny Reed and Mrs. Ronald Schwalbaugh.

As the couple left for a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination the bride wore a blue, pink, yellow and white plaid wool pantsuit. The couple now resides at 87 Stihl Ave.

The bride graduated from Logan Elm High School and is employed at the Correctional Medical and Reception Center in Columbus.

The bridegroom, also a graduate of Logan Elm High School, is employed as a body technician at Yates Buick.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edler, Chillicothe, and Ms. Lucille Redman, Columbus.

Magic Sewing Club Entertains Spouses At Christmas Party

The Magic Sewing Club held its annual Christmas Party Friday evening with husband's as guests at the Colony House Restaurant.

The group then met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Turner, 1962 Walnut Creek Pike. Gifts were placed under a decorated Christmas tree and secret pals were revealed in the gift exchange. Names for secret pals for the coming year were drawn. Mrs. Walter Arledge will be the secretary and treasurer for the 1977 club year.

The evening was spent playing cards with Mrs. Raymond Barr winning the traveling prize. Raymond Barr, Bob Lovett and Paul Turner won the men's prizes, and Mrs. Walter Melvin, Mrs. Gladden Troutman and Mrs. Walter Arledge won the ladies prizes.

Mr. and Mrs. Gladden Troutman were also celebrating their wedding anniversary. Present were: Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lozier, Mrs. Russel Skaggs, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Arledge, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lovett, Mr. and Mrs. Gladden Troutman, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Melvin, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Barr, Mrs. Noble Barr, and the hosts.

The next meeting will be January 12 in the home of Mrs. Troutman, 155 E. Union St.

Garden Club Holds Christmas Dinner

Members of Circleville Garden Club held their annual Christmas Dinner and meeting recently at Pickaway Arms. On the tables and fireplace mantel were Christmas arrangements provided by a committee chaired by Miss Elizabeth Tolbert. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kern were responsible for the gold and green color blend of the traditional Christmas tree.

Dr. W. L. Sprouse spoke on "Christmas Thoughts" incorporating the story of "The Other Wise Man."

Ann Wolf discussed the origins of Christmas cards and Franklin Gwinn commented on the custom of Christmas Carols.

Kenneth Temple talked about nature preserves in Ohio and illustrated his message with slides. Of particular interest to the members were pictures of Stage's Pond, the nature preserve closest to Circleville.

A white elephant gift exchange provided much humor. Mrs. Franklin Gwinn won the prize for the best wrapped gift and the prize for the most original corsage was awarded to Mrs. Edward Wolf.

Final plans were made to provide Christmas decorations at the Pickaway County Museum and Public Library.

Christmas Party Held By CB Club

Roundtown Citizen Band Club met recently at the K of P lodge hall in Stoutsville for its Christmas Party.

Present were Sue and Chris Lockard, Yvonne, Chuck and John Adams; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis, Brian, Todd and Junior; Alice, Tina, Tom and Shelly Barnhart; Charles and Erma Iles, Carol and Pat Renkel, Marveen Young, Ruth Andrews, Charles and Opal Barnhart, Mildred and Pauline Davis.

Games were led by Sue Lockard with prizes awarded to Shelly Barnhart, Brian Davis, Carol and Patty Renkel, Chris Lockard, Chuck Adams. All the children received silver dollars.

The adults exchanged gifts and some secret sisters names were revealed. The next regular meeting will be in the Iles home on Logan St.

Names Omitted

The names of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Dye, Columbus, were omitted from the list of persons sending gifts to Timothy Ward on his birthday recently.

Miss Kathy Sue Hardy, Dennis M. Brooks Are Wed

MR. AND MRS. DENNIS MARLON BROOKS

Good Shepherd United Methodist Church was the setting for the wedding of Miss Kathy Sue Hardy and Mr. Dennis Marlon Brooks at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 5.

The Rev. Eugene Flowers officiated the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Hardy, 1980 Arapaho Drive, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester J. Brooks, Route 5.

A program of nuptial selections played by Mrs. Lucille Kirkwood, organist, preceded the service.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding she selected a formal length gown of white chantilly lace in an empire silhouette with high ruffled neckline and full sleeves with deep ruffle edged cuffs. The full skirt with a deep flounce flowed softly to a wateau train. The bride's lace edged veil of illusion, held by a matching lace cap, fell to a cathedral length train. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and rosebuds backed with leatherleaf.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Taska Reeser and bridesmaids were Miss Twana Brooks and Miss Jodi Hardy. The honor attendant wore a formal length jade green polyester knit gown with an empire bodice, lace edged yoke, high neckline and bishop sleeves with deep lace edged cuffs. The bridesmaids were attired identically to the honor attendant in spice. Ms. Reeser carried a single long stemmed white carnation dipped in orange with greenery and a bow matching her gown. Miss Brooks and Miss Hardy carried carnations dipped in green.

The Misses Jennifer Schoonover and Amy Swank were candle bearers at the opening and closing of the ceremony. Flower girls were Miss Shawna Schwalbaugh and Miss Shawna Dumm, cousins of the bride. They all wore full length gowns of brown knit.

Ring bearer was Master John M. Reeser.

Mr. Randy Brooks served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Mr. Darryl Hardy, Mr. Loren Reed and Mr. Rick Edler, and the groomsmen were Mr. Mike Sabine, Mr. Steve Sabine and Mr. Dale Reynolds.

The bride's mother wore a formal length aqua knit gown in a princess silhouette with long sleeves and V-neckline trimmed in venise lace and pearls.

The bridegroom's mother chose a formal length green knit gown with a matching lace jacket. Corsages for both mothers were of white rosebuds.

Hostesses for the reception in the Service Center were Mrs. Dean Durbin, Mrs. Mike Sabine, Miss Penny Reed and Mrs. Ronald Schwalbaugh.

As the couple left for a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination the bride wore a blue, pink, yellow and white plaid wool pantsuit. The couple now resides at 87 Stihl Ave.

The bride graduated from Logan Elm High School and is employed at the Correctional Medical and Reception Center in Columbus.

The bridegroom, also a graduate of Logan Elm High School, is employed as a body technician at Yates Buick.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edler, Chillicothe, and Ms. Lucille Redman, Columbus.

Magic Sewing Club Entertains Spouses At Christmas Party

The Magic Sewing Club held its annual Christmas Party Friday evening with husband's as guests at the Colony House Restaurant.

The group then met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Turner, 1962 Walnut Creek Pike. Gifts were placed under a decorated Christmas tree and secret pals were revealed in the gift exchange. Names for secret pals for the coming year were drawn. Mrs. Walter Arledge will be the secretary and treasurer for the 1977 club year.

The evening was spent playing cards with Mrs. Raymond Barr winning the traveling prize. Raymond Barr, Bob Lovett and Paul Turner won the men's prizes, and Mrs. Walter Melvin, Mrs. Gladden Troutman and Mrs. Walter Arledge won the ladies prizes.

Mr. and Mrs. Gladden Troutman were also celebrating their wedding anniversary. Present were: Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lozier, Mrs. Russel Skaggs, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Arledge, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lovett, Mr. and Mrs. Gladden Troutman, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Melvin, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Barr, Mrs. Noble Barr, and the hosts.

The next meeting will be January 12 in the home of Mrs. Troutman, 155 E. Union St.

Garden Club Holds Christmas Dinner

Members of Circleville Garden Club held their annual Christmas Dinner and meeting recently at Pickaway Arms. On the tables and fireplace mantel were Christmas arrangements provided by a committee chaired by Miss Elizabeth Tolbert. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kern were responsible for the gold and green color blend of the traditional Christmas tree.

Dr. W. L. Sprouse spoke on "Christmas Thoughts" incorporating the story of "The Other Wise Man."

Ann Wolf discussed the origins of Christmas cards and Franklin Gwinn commented on the custom of Christmas Carols.

Kenneth Temple talked about nature preserves in Ohio and illustrated his message with slides. Of particular interest to the members were pictures of Stage's Pond, the nature preserve closest to Circleville.

A white elephant gift exchange provided much humor. Mrs. Franklin Gwinn won the prize for the best wrapped gift and the prize for the most original corsage was awarded to Mrs. Edward Wolf.

Final plans were made to provide Christmas decorations at the Pickaway County Museum and Public Library.

Christmas Party Held By CB Club

Roundtown Citizen Band Club met recently at the K of P lodge hall in Stoutsville for its Christmas Party.

Present were Sue and Chris Lockard, Yvonne, Chuck and John Adams; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis, Brian, Todd and Junior; Alice, Tina, Tom and Shelly Barnhart; Charles and Erma Illes, Carol and Pat Renkel, Marveen Young, Ruth Andrews, Charles and Opal Barnhart, Mildred and Pauline Davis.

Games were led by Sue Lockard with prizes awarded to Shelly Barnhart, Brian Davis, Carol and Patty Renkel, Chris Lockard, Chuck Adams. All the children received silver dollars.

The adults exchanged gifts and some secret sisters names were revealed. The next regular meeting will be in the Illes home on Logan St.

Names Omitted

The names of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Dye, Columbus, were omitted from the list of persons sending gifts to Timothy Ward on his birthday recently.

Santa and the Giant Fighter

By Lucrece Beale

Synopsis: The Harp Witch tells Billy he can slay Goko the giant if he brings her the Rosanna Ruby to set in a magic necklace.

CHAPTER SEVEN THREE ISLANDS

The Harp Witch told Santa there was an island where diamonds and amethysts and pearls and opals grew on trees.

"Among the trees," said the witch, "there is a grove of rubies and here the Rosanna Ruby is to be found. It is the fairest stone of all. If you can pluck it you need have no fear of Goko. I shall put the stone in a magic necklace that will tighten around his throat and he will be helpless."

Santa and Billy rushed off with Theodore the turtle in search of the jewel. The sea was rough. The turtle's upside down shell rocked and bobbed in the waves. Water splashed over the sides. The wind beat the sail and the boom swung back and forth knocking them all to the bottom of the wobbly little boat.

At last Theodore called out, "There is an island straight ahead!"

Thank goodness, thought Billy. He was feeling seasick. He had already had enough sea voyage to last him all his life. But when they came ashore they found this was not the Jewel Island after all.

A round checked brownie was sitting on the beach beating on a child's drum. He told them this was the Island of Lost Toys. "Have you lost a toy?" he asked Billy.

"Oh, yes," said Billy. "I've lost lots of toys! A whistle and a red and blue rubber ball and a baseball bat and a little tin soldier and—"

"They are all here," said the brownie. He pointed to a mountain of balls and toy trucks and dolls and pocket knives and kites

The kangaroo sailor pointed to the Isle of Jewels. and tops and even pogo sticks. They were all lost toys, he explained. "Every toy that is lost is brought to this island by the Play Brownies."

"What happens to them then?" asked Santa.

"Once a year the brownies take the toys back to the world and hide them in strange places for children to come upon unexpectedly."

"I once found my missing roller skate behind the kitchen stove!" exclaimed Billy.

"I expect the brownies put it there," smiled the brownie. "Now why don't you look for your other missing toys here?"

Billy was already shuffling through a pile of tin soldiers but Santa said they must hurry on their way.

They piled back in their rocky boat and rocked off. Twice more they came ashore and twice more they found they had not yet come to the Isle of Jewels.

The first place was called Candy Island. Long ago a candy machine on the island lost a screw. Caramels and marshmal-lows and chocolate creams had been pouring out of the machine ever since and no one had been able to turn it off.

"Can't we stay here a while?" asked Billy eagerly.

Santa said no they must go on for they had lost so much time already and they must hurry and find the Rosanna Ruby.

The next land they came to was Kangaroo Land where kangaroos lived like you and I. They lived in houses and went to school and worked in offices. There were kangaroo policemen and kangaroo children who went to kangaroo birthday parties.

They found a kangaroo sailor standing on the shore. Santa asked him if he could tell them how to reach the Isle of Jewels.

"Certainly," said the kangaroo sailor. He pointed over Santa's shoulder. "Just hop over there!"

Santa turned and saw land that had not been there a moment before. It was an island glittering with the sparkle of precious stones.

Firemen assisted employees in removing excess water.

The Past Chiefs Club of the Pythian Sisters will have their annual Christmas Party Dec. 13 in the home of Gladys Rush. A carry-in dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. with a gift exchange and business meeting to follow.

The Metta Larks will be presenting their annual Christmas Program on Dec. 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the Hedges Chapel United Methodist Church. The public is cordially invited to attend. Members of the group are Metta Dill, Lois Schiff, Carolyn Lutz and Louise Barr.

Be sure to have your porch lights on this coming Tuesday evening, Dec. 14, to let members of the Ashville Kiwanis Club know that you want to purchase one of their Charity Newspapers. Proceeds from this drive are used right here in the community for many worthwhile projects.

There will be more historical pictures of Ashville published again this year in the paper. These will be different from the ones printed last year.

Mrs. Clarabelle Pobst entered Grant Hospital on Monday for observation and treatment.

Harold Cook of Circleville wishes to thank everyone for the nice cards he received while a patient in Berger Hospital. A special thanks to the Rev. John Currans and all the other ministers for their visits and prayers, to Dr. Alvarez, Dr. McCoy and the nursing staff of the hospital. All was greatly appreciated.

Twenty-one dollar bills were used for the ribbon to be cut at the opening ceremonies of the Ashville Equitable Federal Savings and Loan, located on the Ashville Pike. Many local and county dignitaries attended the ribbon-cutting ceremony.

Following the opening the "Money Ribbon" was presented to the Community Club President, Andrew Ward, to be used toward the Save Our Station project.

The management has announced the following hours for the new establishment: Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Thursday and Saturday, 9 a.m. to noon; Friday 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Everyone is invited to visit the new facility and register for door prizes which will be awarded on Jan. 10.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Ashville Village Church enjoyed a weekend retreat at the Lancaster Campground. They were housed in one of the winterized units.

The time was spent in playing games, ping-pong, eating, hiking and seeing who could go without sleep for the longest time.

On Sunday a worship service was held with MYF President, Tony Siriano, giving a short sermonette. Others participating in the service was Jan Deal, John Blaney, Chris Tussing and Rodney Archer.

Those enjoying the weekend of fellowship were Pam Dennis, Teresa Rathburn, John Blaney, Carolyn Lutz, Chris Tussing, Rocky Siriano, Rachel Swank, Tony Siriano, Diana Blaney, Rodney Archer, John Pabst, Gene List, Gale Warner, Jan Deal, Lori Archer, and advisors Brenda and David Gibson, Clarabelle and Dick Pobst.

A reminder to you kiddies, and mothers too, of the Breakfast With Santa which will be held Saturday, Dec. 11 at the Jaycee Building from 9 a.m. until noon.

Advanced tickets may be purchased at the Ashville Pharmacy and Lovely Lady Beauty Shop or you may call Naomi Whalen at 983-3033 after 5 p.m. Any advanced tickets not sold will be available at the door that morning.

The price of the ticket includes the breakfast, picture with Santa and entertainment.

The Couples' Group of First English Lutheran Church will go Christmas Caroling on Dec. 12. They will meet at the church at 6:30 p.m. Afterwards the group will go to the home of Terry and Diana Reed, 121 Walnut St.

Jerry and Mona Lee Trego of 315 Peggy Lane, will celebrate their 25th Wedding Anniversary on Dec. 15.

This Saturday and Sunday night, The Ashville Jaycees will be presenting a very special show in Rocket's Olde Time Movie House about our little village called, oddly enough, A Town Called Ashville.

Don't miss the guest appearances made by Charley Morrison and Walter Cronkite in the film.

Admission is charged at the door. The show will start promptly at 8 p.m. both nights. If the house is packed, or you simply can't get to see it those nights, there will be another showing scheduled at a later date.

On Dec. 19, the Sunday School of First English Lutheran Church will present the Children's Christmas Service at 5 p.m. This year a play entitled "The Stable Mouse" will be given.

Results of the Ashville Belles Tuesday Morning Housewives Bowling League for Dec. 7 were: High three-game series, Nadine Findley, 568; High single game, Bea Bonilla, 232; High team series and game, Bev's House Of Beauty, 2112 and 756.

The Metta Larks will be presenting their annual Christmas Program on Dec. 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the Hedges Chapel United Methodist Church. The public is cordially invited to attend. Members of the group are Metta Dill, Lois Schiff, Carolyn Lutz and Louise Barr.

Be sure to have your porch lights on this coming Tuesday evening, Dec. 14, to let members of the Ashville Kiwanis Club know that you want to purchase one of their Charity Newspapers. Proceeds from this drive are used right here in the community for many worthwhile projects.

There will be more historical pictures of Ashville published again this year in the paper. These will be different from the ones printed last year.

Mrs. Clarabelle Pobst entered Grant Hospital on Monday for observation and treatment.

Harold Cook of Circleville wishes to thank everyone for the nice cards he received while a patient in Berger Hospital. A special thanks to the Rev. John Currens and all the other ministers for their visits and prayers, to Dr. Alvarez, Dr. McCoy and the nursing staff of the hospital. All was greatly appreciated.

Twenty-one dollar bills were used for the ribbon to be cut at the opening ceremonies of the Ashville Equitable Federal Savings and Loan, located on the Ashville Pike. Many local and county dignitaries attended the ribbon-cutting ceremony.

Following the opening the "Money Ribbon" was presented to the Community Club President, Andrew Ward, to be used toward the Save Our Station project.

The management has announced the following hours for the new establishment: Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Thursday and Saturday, 9 a.m. to noon; Friday 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Everyone is invited to visit the new facility and register for door prizes which will be awarded on Jan. 10.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Ashville Village Church enjoyed a weekend retreat at the Lancaster Campground. They were housed in one of the winterized units.

The time was spent in playing games, ping-pong, eating, hiking and seeing who could go without sleep for the longest time.

On Sunday a worship service was held with MYF President, Tony Siriano, giving a short sermonette. Others participating in the service was Jan Deal, John Blaney, Chris Tussing and Rodney Archer.

Those enjoying the weekend of fellowship were Pam Dennis, Teresa Rathburn, John Blaney, Carolyn Lutz, Chris Tussing, Rocky Siriano, Rachel Swank, Tony Siriano, Diana Blaney, Rodney Archer, John Pabst, Gene List, Gale Warner, Jan Deal, Lori Archer, and advisors Brenda and David Gibson, Clarabelle and Dick Pobst.

Mrs. Helen Beck is a medical patient in Mercy Hospital, Columbus, where she is being treated for pneumonia.

First English Lutheran Women will hold their Christmas dinner at the church on Dec. 15, at 6:30 p.m.

A reminder to you kiddies, and mothers too, of the Breakfast With Santa which will be held Saturday, Dec. 11 at the Jaycee Building from 9 a.m. until noon.

Advanced tickets may be purchased at the Ashville Pharmacy and Lovely Lady Beauty Shop or you may call Naomi Whalen at 983-3033 after 5 p.m. Any advanced tickets not sold will be available at the door that morning.

The price of the ticket includes the breakfast, picture with Santa and entertainment.

The Couples' Group of First English Lutheran Church will go Christmas Caroling on Dec. 12. They will meet at the church at 6:30 p.m. Afterwards the group will go to the home of Terry and Diana Reed, 121 Walnut St.

Jerry and Mona Lee Trego of 315 Peggy Lane, will celebrate their 25th Wedding Anniversary on Dec. 15.

This Saturday and Sunday night, The Ashville Jaycees will be presenting a very special show in Rockey's Olde Time Movie House about our little village called, oddly enough, A Town Called Ashville.

Don't miss the guest appearances made by Charley Morrison and Walter Cronkite in the film.

Admission is charged at the door. The show will start promptly at 8 p.m. both nights. If the house is packed, or you simply can't get to see it those nights, there will be another showing scheduled at a later date.

On Dec. 19, the Sunday School of First English Lutheran Church will present the Children's Christmas Service at 5 p.m. This year a play entitled "The Stable Mouse" will be given.

Results of the Ashville Belles Tuesday Morning Housewives Bowling League for Dec. 7 were: High three-game series, Nadine Findley, 568; High single game, Bea Bonilla, 232; High team series and game, Bev's House Of Beauty, 2112 and 756.

Dec. 18, the Luther League of First English Lutheran Church will decorate the church tree at 3 p.m. They will then eat together as a group and then go Christmas Caroling at 6:30 p.m.

Taste Promise Kept.

'Enriched Flavor'TM breakthrough brings unprecedented taste to low tar smoking.

For many years low tar cigarettes have promised taste.

But your own taste told you the truth: low tar meant low taste.

Until MERIT.

MERIT packs 'Enriched Flavor' tobacco. Tobacco fortified with key flavor-rich ingredients of cigarette smoke proven to deliver taste way out of proportion to tar.

If you smoke, you'll be interested.

Tests Verify Taste

MERIT was taste-tested

against current leading low tar brands ranging from 11 mg. to 15 mg. tar.

Thousands of smokers were involved. The majority report: Even if the cigarette tested had up to 60% more tar than MERIT, MERIT still delivered as much—or more—taste.

Repeat: delivered as much—or more—taste.

MERIT. Unprecedented flavor at one of the lowest tar levels in smoking today.

THERE, THERE — Cheer up, I'm really not very fierce," says the Duchess of Umbrage (Edith Grigg) as she dries the tears of Nicollette (Helen Blum). "Thank you, thank you" Seamus (Jerry Wexler) and the Lephrechaun (Barb Alkire) are also pleased to have the help of the Duchess and Bugle (Julie Smith). "Nicollo and Nicollette" will play Dec. 10, 11 and 12 at Memorial Hall. Tickets may be purchased at the door. Performance times are Dec. 10 at 8 p.m.; Dec. 11 at 2:30 and 8 p.m. and Dec. 12 at 2:30 p.m.

Dear Abby:

Divide Winnings Between Partners

DEAR ABBY: I hope you will take time to give me your opinion on a problem that involves two partners in a small business.

Partner A bought a $100 ticket to a charity ball with company funds, a normal procedure. The day of the ball, partner A asked partner B if he would like to use the ticket. Partner B said no. Partner A offered it to others. No takers. At the last minute Partner A decided to go himself.

The ticket was the winning number. It won $4,000!

Partner A insists the money is his. Partner B thinks it should be split 50-50. What do you think?

P.R.

DEAR P.R.: If partner A, with the knowledge and consent of partner B, invested company funds in an oil well, and it brought in a million-dollar gusher, wouldn't partner B be entitled to half the proceeds? The same principle applies.

DEAR ABBY: When I go to my doctor for my blood pressure check-up, he always checks my breasts for cancer as well. We both belong to the same country club. I wonder if he thinks he is doing me a favor, or if he is doing himself one.

As far as I know, there is no cancer in my family, and I read somewhere that people with high blood pressure don't usually have cancer.

Do you think I should change doctors?

ANXIOUS IN MONTANA

DEAR ANXIOUS: He is doing YOU a favor, not himself. He sounds like a very competent physician, but if the fact that you see him socially inhibits

Swedish Prince Marries Sweetheart

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Sweden's Prince Bertil married Lillian Craig, his Welsh sweetheart of 33 years, in a royal ceremony.

Bertil's father, the late King Gustav VI Adolf, had opposed the marriage after Bertil became next in line to the throne when his elder brother was killed in a plane crash.

He would have lost his royal title had he defied the king's wishes.

The new king, 30-year-old Carl XVI Gustav, Bertil's nephew, approved the marriage this year and was among the 200 wedding guests Tuesday.

Bertil, 64, met Mrs. Craig, 60, in 1943 in London where he was serving as a naval attache. She was working as an auxiliary war nurse.

Mrs. Craig, who received her Swedish citizenship two weeks ago, becomes Duchess of Halland, the west coast province where Bertil is duke.

Alcohol Panel To Hear Reports

Committee members, who have been interviewing church, school and youth groups, will report during a meeting Friday, of Circleville Forum and other groups interested in offering alternatives to alcohol abuse by local teenage youth.

Every effort is being made to involve youth in planning alternative activities with support from the largest possible segment of the community.

The meeting, scheduled for 12 noon, December 10, at the American Red Cross Chapter House is open to anyone with an interest or suggestions. Those attending should bring a brown bag lunch. Coffee will be provided.

Church Part Of Land Deal

OTTUMWA, Iowa (AP) — Steve Welker says the congregation of the Ottumwa Trinity Episcopal Church can still attend services. That was considerate, since the church is his private property now.

"All I wanted to do was find a little house in Ottumwa," said Welker, 27, city editor of the Ottumwa Courier. "But I didn't want the church, too. Do you realize I net maybe $10,000 a year in income?"

The mistake occurred when Welker bought the church rectory for $13,500. A clerical error in the deed gave him title not only to the house but also to the $500,000 church next door and a vacant lot.

"The house is marvelous," said Welker, "but the church? I never did go for Gothic very much."

THERE, THERE — Cheer up, I'm really not very fierce," says the Duchess of Umbrage (Edith Grigg) as she dries the tears of Nicollette (Helen Blum). "Thank you, thank you" Seamus (Jerry Wexler) and the Lephrechaun (Barb Alkire) are also pleased to have the help of the Duchess and Bugle (Julie Smith). "Nicollo and Nicollette" will play Dec. 10, 11 and 12 at Memorial Hall. Tickets may be purchased at the door. Performance times are Dec. 10 at 8 p.m.; Dec. 11 at 2:30 and 8 p.m. and Dec. 12 at 2:30 p.m.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Divide Winnings Between Partners

DEAR ABBY: I hope you will take time to give me your opinion on a problem that involves two partners in a small business.

Partner A bought a $100 ticket to a charity ball with company funds, a normal procedure. The day of the ball, partner A asked partner B if he would like to use the ticket. Partner B said no. Partner A offered it to others. No takers. At the last minute Partner A decided to go himself.

The ticket was the winning number. It won $4,000!

Partner A insists the money is his. Partner B thinks it should be split 50-50. What do you think?

P.R.
DEAR P.R.: If partner A, with the knowledge and consent of partner B, invested company funds in an oil well, and it brought in a million-dollar gusher, wouldn't partner B be entitled to half the proceeds? The same principle applies.

DEAR ABBY: When I go to my doctor for my blood pressure check-up, he always checks my breasts for cancer as well. We both belong to the same country club. I wonder if he thinks he is doing me a favor, or if he is doing himself one.

As far as I know, there is no cancer in my family, and I read somewhere that people with high blood pressure don't usually have cancer.

Do you think I should change doctors?

ANXIOUS IN MONTANA
DEAR ANXIOUS: He is doing YOU a favor, not himself. He sounds like a very competent physician, but if the fact that you see him socially inhibits

Swedish Prince Marries Sweetheart

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Sweden's Prince Bertil married Lillian Craig, his Welsh sweetheart of 33 years, in a royal ceremony.

Bertil's father, the late King Gustav VI Adolf, had opposed the marriage after Bertil became next in line to the throne when his elder brother was killed in a plane crash.

He would have lost his royal title had he defied the king's wishes.

The new king, 30-year-old Carl XVI Gustav, Bertil's nephew, approved the marriage this year and was among the 200 wedding guests Tuesday.

Bertil, 64, met Mrs. Craig, 60, in 1943 in London where he was serving as a naval attaché. She was working as an auxiliary war nurse.

Mrs. Craig, who received her Swedish citizenship two weeks ago, becomes Duchess of Halland, the west coast province where Bertil is duke.

Alcohol Panel To Hear Reports

Committee members, who have been interviewing church, school and youth groups, will report during a meeting Friday, of Circleville Forum and other groups interested in offering alternatives to alcohol abuse by local teenage youth.

Every effort is being made to involve youth in planning alternative activities with support from the largest possible segment of the community.

The meeting, scheduled for 12 noon, December 10, at the American Red Cross Chapter House is open to anyone with an interest or suggestions. Those attending should bring a brown bag lunch. Coffee will be provided.

Church Part Of Land Deal

OTTUMWA, Iowa (AP) — Steve Welker says the congregation of the Ottumwa Trinity Episcopal Church can still attend services. That was considerate, since the church is his private property now.

"All I wanted to do was find a little house in Ottumwa," said Welker, 27, city editor of the Ottumwa Courier. "But I didn't want the church, too. Do you realize I net maybe $10,000 a year in income?"

The mistake occurred when Welker bought the church rectory for $13,500. A clerical error in the deed gave him title not only to the house but also to the $500,000 church next door and a vacant lot.

"The house is marvelous," said Welker, "but the church? I never did go for Gothic very much."

Crime Compensation Problems Seen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — When Ohio starts compensating the victims of crime early next year, state officials say they fear a lot of people who thought they qualified will go away empty handed.

Steven L. Ball, assistant attorney general who heads the Court of Claims' investigative unit, said his main concern is that many will fail to understand the new program. An educational effort is being planned, however.

Primarily, the 1976 legislation which created the program provides only that the state will reimburse victims up to $50,000 for financial losses stemming from injuries or death.

Property losses are not covered, and applicants should understand that any other compensation they receive from their own insurance policies, or from workmen's compensation or private protection against lost wages, will be deducted from any state benefits.

Ancient Canoe Found While Dredging Lake

CLEVELAND (AP) — An ancient Indian dugout canoe unearthed last week during dredging of Savannah Lake rolled into the Cleveland Museum of Natural History here Monday.

The 22-foot, 1,000-pound canoe was uncovered from about seven feet of peat in the lake, located in the town of Bailey's Lakes, six miles north of Ashland.

It was transported here in a moving van, then was rolled along pieces of firewood into the museum.

"The canoe is aboriginal—it must be at least 1,000 years old," said Dr. David Brose, professor of anthropology at Case Western Reserve University here and museum curator. "And it probably is between two and three thousand years old."

"It's in relatively good shape," Brose added. "It's almost complete from head to base."

Experts believe the canoe is one of only three discovered in the Great Lakes area. The other two, both found near Ontario, were not as well preserved as this one, Brose said.

The age of the canoe won't be determined precisely until tests are conducted, but Brose said bark-cover canoes were used by Indians before 1,000 AD and dugout canoes such as this one prior to that.

"We'll determine the age by means of a radio-carbon test," Brose said. "This tells us how long ago the tree from which the canoe was made died."

He said the dugout canoes were made by charring the inner portions of the tree, a white oak, and then hollowing out the charred portions.

Brose said the canoe will be treated chemically to insure its preservation. He said the museum was alerted to Ball says lack of protection against property losses should stressed.

This means that Ohioans whose cars are stolen, or whose houses are broken into, for instance, may not collect from the state for replacements or repairs.

Another exception is that victims of crimes committed with motor vehicles are not eligible to apply, with one possible exception—that being the case of someone hurt by a fleeing felon. Actually, even the latter situation is unclear, along with others on which the law is vague, officials say.

The three court of claims commissioners, expected to be named soon by the Ohio Supreme Court to rule on claims, will probably set precedents with at least some of their early decisions. Additionally, the legislature may want to make modifications next year in the law which took effect Sept. 27.

Under the 1976 law, Ball's unit will begin accepting claims for compensation Dec. 28. His staff of four or five investigators will have up to 60 days to look into their validity before making recommendations to the claims commissioners.

This probably means no claims will be paid at least until late February. Applications forms are to be made available at the Court of Claims, and in the courts of common pleas around the state. They will clarify to a degree who is eligible, and the attorney general's office is preparing pamphlets for statewide distribution, explaining what types of crimes can qualify victims for compensation.

Some of the types of claims that are payable include those that result in deaths, leaving a surviving spouse deprived of income; medical expenses, funeral bills, loss of wages, rehabilitation therapy, and prosthetic devices.

The state is financing the new program—similar to those already under way in several states—by adding a $3 assessment to each traffic fine across the state. Officials said the assessments should provide from $3 million to $5 million a year, hopefully enough to cover an estimated 2,500 claims annually, which Ball said he anticipates, at least at the start.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jean Triplett of Bluffton was elected president of the Ohio Council of Churches Tuesday as the council's two-day Annual Assembly closed.

Also elected were the Rev. David Sageser of Wilmington, vice president; the Rev. Thomas Liggins of Columbus, treasurer, and the Rev. Joseph Witmer of Youngstown, secretary.

The four will serve one-year terms which begin immediately.

Other business acted upon by the more than 120 delegates representing 18 denominations included the adoption of a seven-goal Plan to Action for 1977.

Highlights of the plan include points which support ecumenical cooperation among churches in Ohio; a responsible economic system with access to nourishment, housing and health care for all persons, and a political system in which public policy decisions are influenced by Christian perspectives.

Money Sought For Rail Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Rail Transportation Authority says it will ask the State Controlling Board for an unspecified amount of money to hire a consulting firm to prepare a high-speed passenger rail transportation plan.

ORTA officials refused to release the specific amount that will be sought. Vice chairman William Sanzenbacher said negotiations continue with the Cleveland consulting firm of Howard, Needles, Tammen and Bergendoff.

The board also approved at this week's monthly meeting the formation of subcommittees to study consultant reviewing, passenger rail, budget and personnel, rail freight and contracts and agreements.

Chamber Of Commerce Finalizes Projects Of 1976

The 1977 president of the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors was recognized at the December meeting Tuesday and next year's vice president was elected by the board.

Steve Stevenson, 1977 president, was recognized as the upcoming leader of the chamber. He is presently completing his term as vice president. Stevenson was introduced to the chamber board by President Larry Plum, who's term ended during this meeting.

In his first order of business, Stevenson asked the board to elect a vice president for 1977. He informed the group that the duties of the vice president is to help the president and executive director and to assume the position as president the following year.

A motion was made, seconded and the vote was unanimous to elect Jim Hill as the new vice president.

Jeanne Ankrom was rehired as executive director of the Circleville area Chamber of Commerce.

At the beginning of the luncheon meeting, President Larry Plum acknowledged the five directors recently elected to the board. Those serving a three year term are Dorwin Hay, Jim Hill, Bonnie Hildenbrand, Bud Hritz and Bill Stout. Following this introduction, committee chairmen had year-end reports on the progress of their respective committees.

Dick Gearhardt informed the board that the Old Circle Courthouse Commission has been approved by the Circleville City Council as an official advisory commission. It is made up of members of the commerce, City Council, the mayor and additional members from the community. Three persons were approved by the board as the chamber's appointments to the committee. Dick Gearhardt, Joe Tomlinson and Link Mader are the representatives from the Chamber of Commerce.

Ned Harden again reminded the board of the tricentennial information to be buried under the courthouse lawn. On Dec. 28, a monument will be erected and the capsule of information will be buried.

Harden told board members that festivals for the year were concluded with the Santa Claus Parade. He also urged members to purchase bicentennial plates and coins.

In the public relations area, Plum told the group that a newsletter has been completed, the histories for the informative vault is being prepared and they are still working on the improved brochure of Circleville and Pickaway County.

A First Aid Training Session has been implemented by the safety committee. Chairman Ed Bohenko said the session is Tuesday and Wednesday of this week at the General Telephone Company's offices. The eight-hour course is from 6:30 to 10:30 p.m. both evenings. He added that another session is being planned for January.

Red Wilson has reported that the retail merchants committee has appointed co-chairmen for 1977. Dick Patrick and Ned Schreiner will be heading this area.

Plum informed the board that an audit committee will be appointed to review the books from the past year. It will be carried by Joe Tomlinson.

It was decided by the board that the annual Chamber Dinner in January will feature turkey, noodles and various other foods.

The chamber office will incur additional expenses when mailing and phoning chamber members to check on reservations. The board approved these funds and the method of calling members.

Mrs. Ankrom said 172 reservations have been made from the form sent through the mail, which leaves about 137 members to contact. She said 400 tickets are available.

Judge Blasts Prosecutor For Error

CINCINNATI (AP) — A federal appeals judge denounced the Tennessee attorney general's office Tuesday for allowing prospective jurors to be racially-designated prior to a 1972 murder trial that resulted in a black man being indicted and convicted by two all-white Cleveland, Tenn., juries.

Voicing shock, Judge Harry Phillips of the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals issued the reprimand during an appeals hearing for Robert Arnold of Louisville, Ky., who was convicted in the July, 1972 shooting of Neil McClary.

Phillips' remarks came after it was revealed that prospective jurors in the case were listed by race prior to jury selection. He suggested that the system discriminated against blacks through the all-white composition of the jury.

"I'm a Tennessean. And I'm really shocked at anything that would indicate if a potential juror is black. I hope that will never be another case of this in Tennessee or in any state in this district," said Phillips.

He instructed a State of Tennessee attorney to relay his harsh words to the attorney general's office.

The judges took the case under advisement.

Arnold, one of four blacks convicted in the shooting, was sentenced a 99-year prison term.

Winery Sale Ends High-Rise Dreams

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP) — Phillip Portteus' dream of building a high-rise convention center on Middle Bass Island in Lake Erie was shattered Tuesday when his historic Lonz Winery was sold at a sheriff's auction. A group of Toledo investors, which held the mortgage on the property and had brought foreclosure proceedings against Portteus, submitted the high bid of $281,000 for the acreage, including the mansion, airport and marina.

Portteus, a Monroe, Mich., real estate developer, made a $400,000 bid but was unable to produce the money in the 30 minutes allowed.

Ottawa County officials said liens against Portteus totaled about $600,000. The property was appraised for the sheriff's sale at $315,000, but Portteus said the winery and other facilities on the site has been appraised recently at $2.2 million.

An earlier auction conducted despite a court restraining order brought separate bids on the various parcels totaling $650,000. But Portteus rejected them as being too low.

Portteus, who had visions of developing the island, said at the time, "...if the bids aren't high enough, that ground is not going to go away. It gets more valuable every day. Just the waterfront, a mile and a half of shoreline, at $300 a foot—that's a million and a half dollars."

Portteus said his convention center plans were delayed by tight economic conditions, but said studies he had conducted indicated the project would have been a success because of the island's close proximity to major industries and boating enthusiasts.

However, Ottawa County Sheriff C. T. Stephens scheduled his own sale after the deadline passed for accepting bids from the first auction.

About 70 persons attended Tuesday's auction in the courthouse here and a dozen made serious bids. The high bid was made by Joe Vidoli, a Port Clinton attorney representing the investment group. He outbid several persons who wanted to make the winery a tourist attraction.

Vidoli said he did not know what plans the investors had for the property.

The once-popular winery was shut down last season because it lost its license for selling to minors.

Indians Hit Snag In Reclaiming Land

BRIDGEPORT, Calif. (AP) — Paiute Indians, told to move from land they thought was theirs, are being blocked from building on a new, sagebrush-covered site because some long-dead ancestors camped there.

It's a "Catch 22" situation created as a result of a federal law barring certain construction grants until the archeological value of a site is determined.

About 20 Paiute families are seeking federal grants totaling about $256,000, which would allow them to prepare the 40-acre site overlooking Aurora Creek, bringing in utilities and build low-cost housing.

The new land was deeded over to the Bridgeport Indian Colony from the federal government two years ago. That followed the Indians' discovery in 1972 that they no longer owned the land where their ramshackle homes stand.

The Indians were told they lost ownership when the U.S. Senate refused to ratify an Indian treaty in 1851. The current owner is letting them stay in their homes until the bureaucratic wrinkle over archeological value can be ironed out.

Hank Glazier, 33, reservation project director, says the new land has been picked over by treasure hunters for years. He adds this Sierra town has also built a dump and sewage plant nearby.

Glazier says the government red tape has been a problem "but when you're dealing with the federal government, I guess you have to expect it."

"The way things stand now, we probably won't be able to start any building until next summer or maybe 1978, providing we pass this archeological inspection," he said.

Robert Elston of the Nevada Archeological Survey Office is checking the new land for its historic significance. He says there's not much.

Elston says the area appears to be literally a junkyard for ancestors of Paiutes who lived around here 700 years ago or more.

"This seems to have been a resource area, where they got materials for stone implements," he said. "What appears to be here is the manufacturing debris, the stuff left over from making their tools."

There may have been artifacts of more value at one time "but the area has been picked over for years before we got here," Elston said.

"I don't think anyone should really be blamed for this delay the Indians face," he added. "It's just one of those things."

John Clonts of the Western Archeological Center in Tucson, Ariz., an arm of the National Park Service which is overseeing the survey work, agreed chances are slim that the new Indian land holds any major historic significance.

But he said the survey must be done under terms of federal law if the Indians hope to get the funds to build their new homes.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A storm over New England and high pressure over the central plains combined to produce a northerly flow of air over Ohio.

Cloudiness was quite variable and some widely scattered flurries were reported around the state overnight with light snow of one inch or less in the northeastern counties. Three to four inches of new snow were reported just west of Cleveland.

The cloudiness did not prevent the temperatures from falling to single numbers over northwestern Ohio and the teens over the rest of the state to the low 20s along the Ohio River.

A weakening storm in Missouri was expected to move eastward today and cause considerable cloudiness with a chance of flurries. Highs were to be in the low to mid 20s.

As high pressure moves over the state tonight, a return of warmer weather was expected to start with near or above normal temperatures expected by the end of the week.

Term Given For Slaying

CINCINNATI (AP) — Peter Servizi, charged in the shotgun slaying of alleged drug informant Boyd McQuearry, was sentenced to five to 25 years in prison Tuesday after he ended his two-day-old trial with a guilty plea.

The 28-year-old Cincinnati man was sentenced by Hamilton County Common Pleas Court Judge Thomas Nurre after pleading guilty to charges of conspiracy to commit aggravated murder.

Police said Servizi picked up the death weapon at Greater Cincinnati Airport. There was no mention during the trial who the weapon was delivered to.

McQuearry, 30, was murdered Sept. 2 at a friend's apartment in suburban Clifton. Police said he was a key to the multi-million dollar marijuana raid by federal agents in Mississippi last May.

Servizi's guilty pleas came after testimony from a fourth witness, Byron Ellison, of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., testified he helped purchase the death weapon.

Hough Fails In Legal Bid

CINCINNATI (AP) — James Hough, convicted two years ago in connection with the theft of two Rembrandt paintings, has failed at his latest legal bid for freedom.

Ohio's Adult Parole Board Authority turned down Hough's request for parole Monday. The Cincinnati man has been serving a 3-to 20-year prison term since being convicted in October of 1974.

He appeared before the parole board last week. A board spokesman said he would not reappear for parole until July of 1978.

The Ohio Supreme Court refused to hear an appeal in the case.

The paintings were stolen in December of 1973 from Cincinnati's Taft Museum. They were returned unharmed after a ransom demand was met.

Hough, 32, was convicted on charges of extortion, harboring a felon and receiving stolen goods.

Winery Sale Ends High-Rise Dreams

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP) — Phillip Portteus' dream of building a high-rise convention center on Middle Bass Island in Lake Erie was shattered Tuesday when his historic Lonz Winery was sold at a sheriff's auction.

A group of Toledo investors, which held the mortgage on the property and had brought foreclosure proceedings against Portteus, submitted the high bid of $281,000 for the acreage, including the mansion, airport and marina.

Portteus, a Monroe, Mich., real estate developer, made a $400,000 bid but was unable to produce the money in the 30 minutes allowed.

Ottawa County officials said liens against Portteus totaled about $600,000. The property was appraised for the sheriff's sale at $315,000, but Portteus said the winery and other facilities on the site has been appraised recently at $2.2 million.

An earlier auction conducted despite a court restraining order brought separate bids on the various parcels totaling $650,000. But Portteus rejected them as being too low.

Portteus, who had visions of developing the island, said at the time, "...if the bids aren't high enough, that ground is not going to go away. It gets more valuable every day. Just the waterfront, a mile and a half of shoreline, at $300 a foot—that's a million and a half dollars."

Portteus said his convention center plans were delayed by tight economic conditions, but said studies he had conducted indicated the project would have been a success because of the island's close proximity to major industries and boating enthusiasts.

However, Ottawa County Sheriff C. T. Stephens scheduled his own sale after the deadline passed for accepting bids from the first auction.

About 70 persons attended Tuesday's auction in the courthouse here and a dozen made serious bids. The high bid was made by Joe Vidoli, a Port Clinton attorney representing the investment group. He outbid several persons who wanted to make the winery a tourist attraction.

Vidoli said he did not know what plans the investors had for the property.

The once-popular winery was shut down last season because it lost its license for selling to minors.

Tigers Rip Bulldogs 71-53

By CRAIG ALLISON
Herald Sports Writer

Toren Bensonhaver led the Circleville Tigers with 20 points Tuesday night as the Cats from Roundtown ran the season slate to 3-0 with a victory over Bloom Carroll's Bulldogs in the Mill Street gym.

Close on Bensonhaver's heels was Frank Merrill with 17 tallies. Brent Wright finished with 16, despite the fact that he was out a big part of the game with foul trouble.

It was typical of a cat and dog battle, with the two teams making each other work for nearly every basket that was made. Near the end of the third quarter the Tigers started to pull away, and in the fourth quarter the local lads out-scored the visitors 23 points to 17 to ice the cake.

Bensonhaver and Wright also figured heavily in the rebound department. They each claimed nine. Merrill also chipped in with six.

Circleville never trailed in the contest, but the Bulldogs were making things not nearly always, especially at the end of the first half, as a three point play with :27 showing on the clock put the visitors within one point of the Tigers.

As the teams took the floor for the second half, Merrill hit a 14 footer, but Don Matheny answered right back for the Bulldogs. Brent Wright came back with a lay-up with 7:13 left in the quarter, then hit a foul shot to make it a three pointer for some breathing room.

The Roundtown five started their pull-away from the bulldogs with 4:35 remaining in the third stanza, when Tom Taylor sunk an eight foot jumper after a dazzling feed by Tim Milstead. From that point on the Tigers stretched out in front of Bloom-Carroll, and the clock started to work against the visitors.

Dave Campbell led the Bulldogs with 14 points for the only double-figure scorer for the Fairfield County squad.

SURROUNDED — The Tigers' Roy Huffer (10) is surrounded by the entire Bulldog defense in Tuesday night's game with Bloom-Carroll. He did manage to get the ball off to Other scorers for the Tigers were Taylor with 11, Rusty Holbrook with five, and Mark Albright and Milstead with one apiece.

The Bulldogs got another taste of Pickaway County Friday when they host Butch Kobel's Logan Elm Braves. The Tigers pack their bags Friday and head down to Wilmington to do battle with the Hurrin' Hurricane.

Reserves Win 49-31

Don Hill and Rich Elsea poured in 14 and 11 points respectively as they led their teammates to a 49-31 Circleville Jayvee win over the Bloom-Carroll reserves in Tuesday night's preliminary contest at the Mill Street gym.

Other scorers for the Tigers included Pete Harrison with eight, Richard Pfeleger with six, Brian Sealock with four, and Carey Dean, Barry Keller, and Tim Pontious all had two apiece.

The Bulldog reserves trailed throughout the entire contest, as they had trouble finding their shooting range all night.

Keith Cheek led the visitors with 12 points for the only double scorer. Ernie Ankrom helped his cause with seven points, Joe Goodyear contributed six, Randy Berta had four, and Jeff Rarick had two.

Friday night the Tiger reserves take on the Wilmington reserve squad at Wilmington.

Ace Reserves Nip Centennial

The Amanda-Clearcreek reserves, playing a strong second half, nipped Columbus Centennial 46-42 for their first win of the year Tuesday night.

It was an abbreviated night of action for Ace fans, as Centennial failed to field a varsity team because of a communication failure.

Paul Jones paced the win with 14 points, Jeff Hurshey added 12, Steve Guseman had 8, Scott Guseman scored 6, Brent Wharton had 4, and Jim Nye tallied 2.

The Aces led 8-5 after the first period, but were trailing 18-14 at the half before taking command 32-28 going into the final quarter.

Both A-C teams will host Liberty Union in a Mid-State clash Friday.

Vikes Take First Win

The Teays Valley Vikings tasted the sweetness of victory for the first time in the 1976-77 season Tuesday night, as they defeated Grandview to the tune of 56-53.

Rick Queen led the way down victory lane with 16 points for the Vikes. Tim Tosca added 11 and Mike Johnsen 10 to complete the double scoring. Terry Trego added eight, Duane Keller had five, Mike Fisher four and Jeff Voss two for the scoring.

Turnovers might have cost the Vikings the game. They misplayed the ball 19 times as compared with Grandview's 11. The Norsemen came on strong in the rebound department though with 37, while the Bobcats could manage only 28.

The Vikings hit 24 shots in 57 attempts from the field, and were eight for 15 at the charity stripe. Grandview managed 25 of 63 from the field and three of 10 from the foul line.

Concerning the win, Viking coach Bob Hoover said, "I think that when Mike Johnsen came off the bench with 10 points and nine rebounds, that was the spark we needed. We had more turnovers than we would have liked, but I think we played pretty good basketball. Rick Queen also helped us out, as he had 12 rebounds and hit 50 per cent from the field and 67 per cent from the foul line."

The next game for the Vikings will be this Friday when they travel to Marysville in a Metro League contest.

SUMMARY

TEAYS VALLEY — Tosca, 5-1-11; Trego, 3-2-8; Voss, 1-0-2; Johnsen, 4-2-10; Queen, 7-2-16; Fisher, 2-0-4; Keller, 2-1-5. Totals, 24-8-56.

Aces Split Games With St. Marys

The 7th grade team of Amanda-Clearcreek slipped past Lancaster St. Marys 28-27 Tuesday night, while the 8th graders were topped 37-30 in two tight Junior High contests.

Jeff Hettinger scored 12 points to lead the 7th grade win, their second in as many outings.

Randy Evans scored '5, Junior Beavers and David Martin had 4 each, Tony Kennedy had 2, and George Conrad scored a point.

Both teams played to a 6-all first period tie before Aces opened a 14-13 lead at the half and 19-18 lead after three periods.

The 8th grade Aces dropped their second game of the season, trailing St. Marys 8-7 after the first period, 18-15 at the half, and 30-22 at the end of the third quarter.

Todd Bitler scored 14 points, Jeff Adams and K.C. Kerns had 5 each, Kevin Davis scored 3, Denny Compton had 2, and Doug Evans scored a point.

Both teams will host Berne Union Thursday night at the Stoutsville gym with the 7th grade contest starting at 4:15 p.m.

The former California Golden Seals are playing in the National Hockey League this season as the Cleveland Barons. And the old Kansas City team is now the Colorado Rockies.

Shermans Stun Mustangs

Unioto used the foul line and a rugged, burly defense to stun Westfall 55-52 Tuesday night in a Scioto Valley Conference contest the Mustangs would rather forget.

It was the first win for the Sherms in 23 games - a remarkable statistic when one considers how well Unioto's players maintained their poise in the face of Westfall's last quarter pressure.

But the Sherms calmly scored 13 of their 15 fourth quarter points at the foul line to put the game out of reach.

The Sherms are 1-3 on the year. All their games have been league battles.

Westfall, meanwhile, dropped to 1-2 in the SVC and 1-2 in all games.

Unioto netted 17 of 39 shots from the floor for a 43 per cent average, and shot 67 per cent from the foul line on a 21 of 31 night.

The Mustangs hooped 20 of 53 shots from the floor, a 38 per cent average, and made 12 of 16 foul shots for 62 per cent.

Strong Sherman Center Mark Davis paced Unioto with 15 points and was an effective barrier in the center lane against Westfall. Steve Uhrig scored 12 points, including eight at the foul line, and Gary Proehl hit for 11.

Jeff Mowery paced Westfall with 15 points for the night, and Bruce Starkey added 12. Eric Schleich, Larry Bilek, and Neil Keller had six each, Tom Adams scored four, and Chris Weaver netted three.

The Sherms were patient against the Mustang man to man defense in the first period, holding on for a 14-10 edge as Daily scored on a fast break and a shot from the key, and Davis dropped in two free throws.

Meanwhile, the Mustangs were forced to the perimeter when their running tactics failed, and had to rely on poor shot selection for their offense. Unioto clogged the middle and usually came down with the rebound after the first shot.

After the Sherms reeled off three quick charity pointers to open the second period, Westfall switched to a 2-3 zone defense to send Unioto to the perimeter.

The maneuver paid off for Coach Mike Eckle, who watched his team pick up some of its misplaced momentum.

After Mowery popped in a jumper from the side with 2:32 left in the half, a basket that cut the Unioto lead to 21-18, Westfall hopped back into its man-to-man and added a bit of a press to pull within a point, 23-22, on a Mowery corner shot with 22 seconds remaining.

But Kevin Davis scored on a fast break after Mowery's pointers and added a free throw to lead his team to a 26-22 halftime break.

Westfall appeared to gain the upper hand in the third period, erasing the deficit with seven straight markers, and holding a 34-30 lead thanks to a Mowery jumper from the key with 2:58 left in the period.

But the Sherms countered with four foul shots, a tip-in of a missed free throw, and two fast-break jumpers to regain the lead 40-38 at the quarter break.

The Mustangs continued to fight back, knotting the contest 42-40 on a Starkey jumper with 4:33 left and grabbing the lead on a Mowery shot from the key about a minute later.

Unioto reeled off five straight free throws to take the lead for good and seal the win.

Westfall will travel to Piketon Friday in an attempt to get back into the SVC title chase.

SUMMARY

UNIOTO — Uhrig, 2-8-12; Daily, 1-2-4; Davis, 7-1-15; Proehl, 4-3-11; K. Davis, 2-4-8; Kerns, 0-3-3; Barr, 1-0-2. Totals, 17-21-55.

WESTFALL — Weaver, 1-1-3; Schleich, 2-2-6; Starkey, 6-0-12; Bilek, 2-2-6; Adams, 1-2-4; Mowery, 6-3-15; Keller, 2-2-6. Totals, 20-12-52.

Hockey Goal Marked By Contact Lens Loss

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The puck entered the net off the stick of J. P. Parise, and most of the sellout crowd stood and cheered the New York Islanders' goal. Players rushed to congratulate Parise, then headed for Jean Potvin, whose shot had bounced to Parise before the veteran left wing rammed it into the net.

Potvin had other things on his mind; he waved everyone away. Soon, nearly two dozen hockey players were bent over at the waist, scanning the ice for Potvin's contact lens.

"As I shot the puck, somebody's glove just caught the edge of my left eye," Potvin recalled after setting up the winning goal in the Islanders' 4-2 conquest of the St. Louis Blues Tuesday night. "My lens fell out. It's tinted blue, and usually you find them when they fall, but I lost this one."

Ace Reserves Nip Centennial

The Amanda-Clearcreek reserves, playing a strong second half, nipped Columbus Centennial 46-42 for their first win of the year Tuesday night.

It was an abbreviated night of action for Ace fans, as Centennial failed to field a varsity team because of a communication failure.

Paul Jones paced the win with 14 points, Jeff Hurshey added 12, Steve Guseman had 8, Scott Guseman scored 6, Brent Wharton had 4, and Jim Nye tallied 2.

The Aces led 8-5 after the first period, but were trailing 18-14 at the half before taking command 32-28 going into the final quarter.

Both A-C teams will host Liberty Union in a Mid-State clash Friday.

Vikes Take First Win

The Teays Valley Vikings tasted the sweetness of victory for the first time in the 1976-77 season Tuesday night, as they defeated Grandview to the tune of 56-53.

Rick Queen led the way down victory lane with 16 points for the Vikes. Tim Tosca added 11 and Mike Johnsen 10 to complete the double scoring. Terry Trego added eight, Duane Keller had five, Mike Fisher four and Jeff Voss two for the scoring.

Turnovers might have cost the Vikings the game. They misplayed the ball 19 times as compared with Grandview's 11. The Norsemen came on strong in the rebound department though with 37, while the Bobcats could manage only 28.

The Vikings hit 24 shots in 57 attempts from the field, and were eight for 15 at the charity stripe. Grandview managed 25 of 63 from the field and three of 10 from the foul line.

Concerning the win, Viking coach Bob Hoover said, "I think that when Mike Johnsen came off the bench with 10 points and nine rebounds, that was the spark we needed. We had more turnovers than we would have liked, but I think we played pretty good basketball. Rick Queen also helped us out, as he had 12 rebounds and hit 50 per cent from the field and 67 per cent from the foul line."

The next game for the Vikings will be this Friday when they travel to Marysville in a Metro League contest.

Aces Split Games With St. Marys

The 7th grade team of Amanda-Clearcreek slipped past Lancaster St. Marys 28-27 Tuesday night, while the 8th graders were topped 37-30 in two tight Junior High contests.

Jeff Hettinger scored 12 points to lead the 7th grade win, their second in as many outings.

Randy Evans scored 5, Junior Beavers and David Martin had 4 each, Tony Kennedy had 2, and George Conrad scored a point.

Both teams played to a 6-all first period tie before Aces opened a 14-13 lead at the half and 19-18 lead after three periods.

The 8th grade Aces dropped their second game of the season, trailing St. Marys 8-7 after the first period, 18-15 at the half, and 30-22 at the end of the third quarter.

Todd Bitler scored 14 points, Jeff Adams and K.C. Kerns had 5 each, Kevin Davis scored 3, Denny Compton had 2, and Doug Evans scored a point.

Both teams will host Berne Union Thursday night at the Stoutsville gym with the 7th grade contest starting at 4:15 p.m.

The former California Golden Seals are playing in the National Hockey League this season as the Cleveland Barons. And the old Kansas City team is now the Colorado Rockies.

All County Teams Travel Friday Night

County basketball heads into the pre-holiday stretch this weekend as Teays Valley heads to Marysville, Westfall travels to Piketon, and the Logan Elm Braves run over to Bloom-Carroll.

According to Viking boss Bob Hoover, the Monarchs have yet to break into the win column but they are a better team than the record would indicate. Their losses came in close contests to Franklin Heights and Grandview.

In order to take their second win of the season, Hoover says that the Vikes will have to get inside and play more consistent. Hoover said he would like to see some fouls drawn on their big men also.

The Westfall Mustangs are on the road to Piketon, where they will face a strong, physical team, according to head Coach Mike Eckle. "I would have to rate Piketon as one of the top teams in the SVC this season, and we're going to have to be on our toes down there," stated Eckle.

The Red Streaks bring back four starters from last season, plus their sixth and seventh men from the bench. Also joining the varsity ranks this season are the members of an outstanding junior varsity team from last year.

Piketon uses this wealth of talent in a man-to-man defense that will also go into the press on occasion. They are also quite powerful on the boards, according to Eckle.

What will the Mustangs have to do to win the contest? "We're going to have to control the ball game and get more rebounds. We must also make good shot selections.

Probable starters for Westfall include Larry Bilek, Eric Schleich, Chris Weaver, Jeff Mowery, and Tom Adams. Others slated for probable

Purdue Rips Hoosiers; Wins 82-68

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"I really believe Purdue will be in the run for the Big Ten crown," said Indiana State Coach Bob King after watching his team bow to Fred Schauss' Boilermakers 82-68.

"I'm really impressed with their bench—they were able to sustain pressure," King said Tuesday night. Schauss, the Purdue coach, agreed. "Our bench really helped us. We didn't lose any proficiency with our players, which enabled us to keep pressure on," said Schauss.

"I would hazard to say Louisville (Purdue's next opponent) is the country's deepest team," Schauss added, "But I'm convinced we're capable of beating anyone."

Junior forward Walter Jordan scored 20 points and collected 10 rebounds to lead the Boilermakers past the previously unbeaten Sycamores. Wayne Walls contributed 13 and Eugene Parker and Joe Barry Carroll added 12 points each for Purdue which improved its record to 3-2.

In the only other game involving a Big Ten team Tuesday night, Northwestern, 2-3, was pounded by seventh-ranked Norte Dame 105-78.

Bill Paterno tossed in 19 points and Don "Duck" Williams added 18 as the Irish shot 63 percent from the field.

"Notre Dame did not surprise us at all ... Early in the game they dominated the boards, which hurt us," said Northwestern Coach Tex Winter. "We lost our poise and we were intimidated."

Tonight, Illinois hosts San Jose and Minnesota travels to Nebraska in games involving Big Ten teams.

Pacers Win, But So Does Bob McAdoo

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Bob McAdoo's latest effort sure didn't hurt his bargaining position any. The three-time National Basketball Association scoring champion, publicly placed on the trading block by Buffalo Braves owner Paul Snyder, scored a season-high 42 points and grabbed a team-record 29 rebounds in a 107-103 loss to the Indiana Pacers Tuesday night.

It was an incredible performance in light of the offcourt maelstrom which began with Snyder's statement Monday that since he could not sign McAdoo to a new long-term contract after offering $500,000 a year, he was going to trade the 6-foot-10 forward.

Snyder had said he would announce McAdoo's destination — New York and Seattle are the frontrunners — at 10 a.m. Tuesday. That time came and went, and when the Braves took the court against Indiana Tuesday night, McAdoo was still wearing his familiar No. 11.

He gave those involved in the trade talks something to think about with his spectacular effort against the Pacers.

In other NBA games Tuesday night, the Portland Trail Blazers routed the New York Knicks 111-94, the Chicago Bulls beat the Los Angeles Lakers 89-81, the New Orleans Jazz defeated the Seattle SuperSonics 110-98, the Denver Nuggets topped the Milwaukee Bucks 122-115 and the Golden State Warriors beat the Cleveland Cavaliers 120-104.

action include Neil Keller and Bruce Starkey.

Logan Elm will be on the road to Bloom-Carroll where they hope to give the Bulldogs a second bitter taste of Pickaway County basketball, after Circleville's Tigers shut them down 71-53 Tuesday night in the Mill Street gym.

To do that though, LEHS cage boss Butch Kobel says that his charges will have to control the boards and handle full court pressure. Other items Kobel has slated for improvement include working as a team, being more patient with the offense, and making more foul shots.

That sounds like a lot of work, but Kobel thinks that his team is capable. The Braves will have to work against a team that makes use of multiple defenses, including a man-to-man, 1-2-2 zone, and a 2-2-1 full court press.

The Braves were idle Tuesday night, but the Tigers' Bulldogs game in Mill Street gym saw two big guns for BC, Dave Cotner and Dan Mandeville, held to nine and five points, respectively. Big man for Bloom-Carroll against the Tigers was Dave Campbell with 14 markers.

Starting in the fray for the Braves will probably be Mark Skinner and Jeff Collins at the guards, with Randy Pontious and Terry Wright at the forward posts. The man in the middle will be Chuck Cave. According to Kobel, four other members of the Braves' squad are improving constantly, and could possibly see some action soon. Those four are Jerry Scanlan, Mike Patrick, Doug Woods, and Tony Crist.

All teams travel Friday, but don't let that stop you from seeing your game. Give yourself plenty of time to get to your destination, and we'll see you there.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth sign.

FOR THURSDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Don't put anything into operation without knowing if you can follow through. Your fervent desire to attain must be thoughtfully directed.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): This day's progress will depend largely on your mental attitude. Do not be disappointed if all your objectives are not gained immediately. Take delays in stride.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Your receptive mind should be stimulated now, so don't let down in purposeful, vigorous action. A good day in which to design measures for increasing productivity.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Do not get caught up in a dilemma of indecision or scatter efforts in so many directions that you accomplish nothing. Use that good judgment of yours.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Much competition indicated. Don't wait too long before taking due action but neither forge ahead impulsively.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Beneficent Mercury influences heighten your perception. Your ingenuity in handling a tricky job situation will win laurels from superiors.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Ask questions, but listen well to the answers, and use care in interpreting relevant facts. You will encounter both high caliber motives and dubious ones.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Mars, highly auspicious, places you in line for success in substantial enterprises. A certain amount of daring favored now.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Protect assets. Don't let money slip through heedless fingers, nor let talents be wasted on fruitless ventures.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Day should bring you strengthened purpose and stepped-up ambitions. You can achieve much, both "on your own" and with backing.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Good Uranus influences stimulate your skills and capabilities. You should feel enthusiastic about the way things go now.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Competition may be keen but, where you have the know-how, don't be afraid to enter the race. Especially favored: maritime pursuits and educational matters.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a keenly analytical mind; are never swayed against reason or logic. Strictly objective in your thinking and always impartial in your judgments, you would make an excellent arbitrator or business advisor. You could also excel as a jurist or diplomat. If you choose the creative field as a career, you would do best as a writer, architect or musician. Any work connected with travel, such as selling or transportation, is also a fine outlet for your talents. Birthdate of: John Milton, Eng. poet; Hermione Gingold, stage and film star; Kirk Douglas, screen star.

In the past, lace was handmade, but today most lace is machine made.

The scientific instrument called the astrolabe measures the altitude of celestial bodies above the horizon, allowing the user to determine time and latitude.

Views On Television

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Recommended tonight: "The Carpenters," ABC's special starring Karen Carpenter and brother Richard, who've shown that a gentle sound can survive in a music world where loud means a hit.

Granted, they've been knocked by assorted pop critics as too gentle, too mild in their music to be anything more than a pleasant, forgettable hum on radio stations with easy-listening formats.

Yet, put your headbone close to the speaker; you'll find solid musicianship by both, not to mention quite subtle, often surprisingly inventive vocal and instrumental arrangements by Richard C.

Much of that — plus sly, unexpected flashes of whimsy — is on display in tonight's show, which has pianist-comic Victor Borge and singer John Denver sharing the bill.

True, you may groan when the Carpenters launch the hour with what seems a lip-synch rendition of their "Top of the World," which has been played so often it should be led away and shot.

But stick around. Vast improvement sets in when we're told Richard is a big fan of the late Spike Jones (a superb musician despite his loony legend as head of the ensemble called the City Slickers).

The Carpenters then say they'll do their first hit — "Close to You" — in the Jones manner. Whereupon they and their guests demolish the tune with kazoo, whistles, pots and pans. Weird. Funny, too.

Another fine whimsy moment: Richard drives a fantasy race against two big-name professionals and makes an emergency pit stop — to replace an eight-track stereo cartridge.

Sister Karen, who at times shows a deft touch for visual comedy, also checks in with a rousing display of her jazz-drumming ability (the Carpenters started as a jazz group).

While not quite in Buddy Rich's league, she still gets the swinging job done in a round of tunes you'd not expect to hear on a mod music show — George Gershwin's "Strike Up the Band," "S Wonderful" and "Fascinating Rhythm."

Borge has little to do, other than a funny piano duet with Carpenter. Which is a shame, but it's still good to see him at work.

Denver, who always has struck me as the leading exponent of folk Muzak, does a forgettable solo, yet more than redeems himself later in a lovely duet with Miss Carpenter.

Tonight's effort is superior in writing, musical arrangements and pace, compared with other specials of this kind.

Let's hope it causes a return engagement for the Carpenters. They have the imagination and taste. All they need now is more new material.

What We Eat
WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans are eating more meat and fewer potatoes than they did 40 years ago, according to the U.S. Census Bureau.

Bureau data shows meat consumption has risen from 117 pounds per capita in 1935 to 186 pounds in 1970, while potato consumption has fallen from 198 pounds per capita in 1935 to 91 pounds in 1970.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.

FOR THURSDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Don't put anything into operation without knowing if you can follow through. Your fervent desire to attain must be thoughtfully directed.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): This day's progress will depend largely on your mental attitude. Do not be disappointed if all your objectives are not gained immediately. Take delays in stride.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Your receptive mind should be stimulated now, so don't let down in purposeful, vigorous action. A good day in which to design measures for increasing productivity.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Do not get caught up in a dilemma of indecision or scatter efforts in so many directions that you accomplish nothing. Use that good judgment of yours.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Much competition indicated. Don't wait too long before taking due action but neither forge ahead impulsively.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Beneficent Mercury influences heighten your perception. Your ingenuity in handling a tricky job situation will win laurels from superiors.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Ask questions, but listen well to the answers, and use care in interpreting relevant facts. You will encounter both high caliber motives and dubious ones.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): Mars, highly auspicious, places you in line for success in substantial enterprises. A certain amount of daring favored now.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Protect assets. Don't let money slip through heedless fingers, nor let talents be wasted on fruitless ventures.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Day should bring you strengthened purpose and stepped-up ambitions. You can achieve much, both "on your own" and with backing.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Good Uranus influences stimulate your skills and capabilities. You should feel enthusiastic about the way things go now.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Competition may be keen but, where you have the know-how, don't be afraid to enter the race. Especially favored: maritime pursuits and educational matters.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a keenly analytical mind; are never swayed against reason or logic. Strictly objective in your thinking and always impartial in your judgments, you would make an excellent arbitrator or business advisor. You could also excel as a jurist or diplomat. If you choose the creative field as a career, you would do best as a writer, architect or musician.

Any work connected with travel, such as selling or transportation, is also a fine outlet for your talents. Birthdate of: John Milton, Eng. poet; Hermione Gingold, stage and film star; Kirk Douglas, screen star.

Views On Television

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Recommended tonight: "The Carpenters." ABC's special starring Karen Carpenter and brother Richard, who've shown that a gentle sound can survive in a music world where loud means a hit.

Granted, they've been knocked by assorted pop critics as too gentle, too mild in their music to be anything more than a pleasant, forgettable hum on radio stations with easy-listening formats.

Yet, put your headbone close to the speaker; you'll find solid musicianship by both, not to mention quite subtle, often surprisingly inventive vocal and instrumental arrangements by Richard C.

Much of that — plus sly, unexpected flashes of whimsy — is on display in tonight's show, which has pianist-comic Victor Borge and singer John Denver sharing the bill.

True, you may groan when the Carpenters launch the hour with what seems a lip-synch rendition of their "Top of the World," which has been played so often it should be led away and shot.

But stick around. Vast improvement sets in when we're told Richard is a big fan of the late Spike Jones (a superb musician despite his loony legend as head of the ensemble called the City Slickers).

The Carpenters then say they'll do their first hit — "Close to You" — in the Jones manner. Whereupon they and their guests demolish the tune with kazoo, whistles, pots and pans. Weird. Funny, too.

Another fine whimsy moment: Richard drives a fantasy race against two big-name professionals and makes an emergency pit stop — to replace an eight-track stereo cartridge.

Sister Karen, who at times shows a deft touch for visual comedy, also checks in with a rousing display of her jazz-drumming ability (the Carpenters started as a jazz group).

While not quite in Buddy Rich's league, she still gets the swinging job done in a round of tunes you'd not expect to hear on a mod music show — George Gershwin's "Strike Up the Band," "S Wonderful" and "Fascinating Rhythm."

Borge has little to do, other than a funny piano duet with Carpenter. Which is a shame, but it's still good to see him at work.

Denver, who always has struck me as the leading exponent of folk Muzak, does a forgettable solo, yet more than redeems himself later in a lovely duet with Miss Carpenter.

Tonight's effort is superior in writing, musical arrangements and pace, compared with other specials of this kind.

Let's hope it causes a return engagement for the Carpenters. They have the imagination and taste. All they need now is more new material.

What We Eat
WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans are eating more meat and fewer potatoes than they did 40 years ago, according to the U.S. Census Bureau.

Bureau data shows meat consumption has risen from 117 pounds per capita in 1935 to 186 pounds in 1970, while potato consumption has fallen from 198 pounds per capita in 1910 to 91 pounds in 1970.

Way Open For Pregnancy Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court decision on disability benefits for pregnancy outraged feminists, but left the way open for legislative changes that would nullify the ruling's impact.

An employer may legally refuse to pay disability or sickleave benefits to pregnant women, the court said Tuesday in a 6 to 3 decision.

There is no sex discrimination "simply because an employer's... plan is less than all-inclusive," said the majority opinion written by Justice William H. Rehnquist.

The justices overturned the findings of a lower court in saying that General Electric Corp. does not violate the rights of any of its 100,000 women employees by making them take unpaid leaves of absence to have babies.

The decision does not mean that those employers now offering pregnancy disability coverage as part of their over-all compensation package must stop doing so. The court said, however, that existing laws such as the 1964 Civil Rights Act do not compel employers to offer that coverage.

Congress is free to pass legislation making such exclusions illegal, the court said.

One group which had supported the GE women employees, the International Union of Electric Workers, said it planned to seek such legislation.

David Fitzmaurice, the union's president, said his organization would lobby for legislation that specifically tells companies offering disability insurance to employees that pregnancy must be one of the health risks covered.

It was through the electrical workers union that 43 women GE workers, representing themselves and all other GE female employees, first filed grievances against the company. Later, they sued.

Their challenge was enthusiastically backed by women's rights groups, which unanimously panned the court's decision.

Karen DeCrow, president of the National Organization for Women, called the ruling "insulting to every mother in the country."

She said, "The court states that men and women are treated equally under such a plan because if a man is pregnant, he will be treated in the same manner as a woman. Such a definition of sex discrimination is unique."

Susan Ross, an attorney with the American Civil Liberties Union, called the court's action "disastrous" for working women. The ACLU said the case showed the need to impress on President-elect Carter "the importance of seating women on the Supreme Court."

While labor and women's rights groups teamed on one side, employers lined up on the other. The Chamber of Commerce praised the court's decision for upholding the "right of employers to determine which risks they will insure their employees against."

Start a BancOhio Individual Retirement Account now.

If you don't have a qualified retirement or profit-sharing plan where you work, open a BancOhio Individual Retirement Account (IRA). It'll earn a 7.9% annual yield through daily compounding of 7.5% annual interest.

Start your IRA for as little as $25, then deposit any amount, any time. You can deposit as much as 15% of your annual earned income, up to $1,500 each year ($3,000 if both husband and wife qualify).

Every dollar you deposit is tax deductible.

It doesn't matter whether you itemize or take the standard deduction. Even your interest is tax free until you begin withdrawals (when you will probably be in a lower tax bracket). At age 59½, you can start withdrawing while funds remaining on deposit continue to yield 7.9% annually. (Regulations require that withdrawals begin by age 70½.)

There are no service charges, no commissions.

No matter how big or small your IRA, there's no charge. And we'll mail regular reports to keep you up to date. To learn more about the BancOhio Individual Retirement Account, contact any of our offices.

All deposits made before December 31 will become deductions on your 1976 Federal income tax return. That way you'll be contributing to your IRA instead of paying the IRS!

Ohio Work Force Gains In Wages

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio workers exceeded the national average in higher wages and reduced unemployment rates for the first nine months of 1976, but the state fell behind in employment for the same period, according to the Ohio State University Bulletin of Business Research.

The November publication reported that the state's unemployment rate dropped to 6.2 per cent by September 1976, down from the record modern high of 10.1 per cent in March 1975. U.S. unemployment was down to 7.4 per cent in September from a 1975 high of 9.1 per cent.

Employment in all Ohio non-agricultural businesses and industries for the first three quarters of the year, compared to the same period in 1975, increased 1 per cent, while the U.S. average rose 3 per cent.

A corresponding slower growth also appeared in the employment of manufacturing production workers in Ohio, up 2 per cent, compared with the U.S. average increase of 5 per cent, the bulletin reported.

Salaries and wages in Ohio and nationwide total personal income both showed 10 per cent gains in the first three quarters of 1976. On a per-worker basis, according to the bulletin, average weekly earnings of manufacturing production workers in Ohio increased 13 per cent, while the U.S. average was up 10 per cent.

Ohio construction workers' weekly wages increased 10 per cent in the first three quarters of 1976, above the U.S. average construction wage of 8 per cent.

Prices directly affecting the U. S. and Ohio consumer during the first nine months of 1976 were up 6 per cent as measured by the cost of living index, the OSU publication said.
